

THE WESLEYAN ALUMNAE

Vol. V

NOVEMBER, 1929

No. 4

NINETY-SECOND SESSION BEGINS

On Wednesday, September 18, Wesleyan opened for the ninety-second session with formal exercises in the gymnasium. Dr. Spright Dowell, president of Mercer University, was the principal speaker. He spoke stirringly on "The Spirit of Scholarship."

Dr. W. F. Quillian welcomed the students, old and new, read messages from alumnae who "wished to be freshmen again," and spoke a word of encouragement to the freshmen.

Four student leaders made brief talks, Charlye Matthews, president of the senior class, Margaret Garnett, president of the Athletic Association, Nel Mullis, president of the Student Government Association, and Mary Banks, president of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Jo Beth Apperson, student teacher of harp in the Conservatory, played two selections on the harp. Professor Edgar Howerton, head of the voice department of the conservatory, sang.

Faculty Changes

One new Ph.D. professor was added to the faculty this fall, Dr. S. L. Akers of Knoxville, Tennessee, associate professor of psychology and philosophy. Dr. Akers received the A.B. degree from the University of Tennessee, the B.D. degree from Northwestern University, and the Ph.D. degree from Yale.

Dr. Akers is much interested in music, and studied pipe organ and harmony in Chicago. While there he was organist in the United Presbyterian Church of Chicago. The two years preceding he was organist at Centenary Church in Knoxville. At Northwestern he was for three years accompanist for the Glee Club, and the last year was president of the club. He has frequently broadcast from Chicago radio stations. The students enjoy informal evenings of music in the parlors of the Student Activities Building.

An excellent tennis player, also, Dr. Akers has been very interested in the new tennis courts, and has helped to lay off several of them for lining.

Miss Martha Louise Kern of Roanoke, Virginia, has been added to the department of French. She did her undergraduate work at Randolph-Macon Woman's College, received the M.A. degree from Johns Hopkins, where she had an honorary scholarship for two years, and studied for the past year in Paris.

Wesleyan welcomed Dr. W. K. Green back this fall as dean of the faculty and head of the English department. Dr. Green left Wesleyan last year to take a position as professor of English at Duke University. Prior to that time, he was at Wesleyan for six years in his present position, and during his administration did much to strengthen Wesleyan's standing among the colleges. Dr. Greene and his family have an apartment in the college.

Conservatory Teachers

The conservatory has three new teachers this fall. Miss Zeta Collins of New

DR. W. K. GREENE who returns to Wesleyan
as Dean and Head of the English Department

DR. S. L. AKERS
Associate Professor of Psychology and Philosophy

York City, will succeed Miss Kathryn Melson who was married during the summer. Miss Collins has just returned from a two years' engagement singing in opera in Italy. She has sung in concert programs in England, Germany, and France and is skilled in the languages of the three countries.

Mrs. James McCaw (Dellie Rogers, A.B. '91) is head of the department of ceramic art, succeeding Miss Callie Cook, resigned.

Miss Jo Beth Apperson of Atlanta is a student teacher of harp and will head the department of instruction in that instrument.

Students of 1929-30

Wesleyan has an unusually good student body for the fall semester of 1929-'30, with students from twelve states and three foreign countries. They come from Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Kentucky, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, New Jersey, Louisiana, New Mexico, Brazil, China, and Hungary. One new Chinese girl is a member of the freshman class, Adelaide Chen.

Freshman Class Honor Students

It is interesting to note the numbers of freshmen students who were leaders in their high school classes, not only scholastically but in extra-curricula activities.

Thirty-nine of the class were honor roll students, and nineteen of these were first honor graduates. These are: Margaret Cantrell, Cedartown; Helen Mixon, Vidalia; Anne Tucker, Shadydalé; Virginia Stanton, Savannah; Eunice Brinson, Brinson; Sue Walker Bailie, Augusta; Frances Dorsey, Calhoun; Katherine Snooks, Ailey; Bess Duncan, Buena Vista; Margaret Burch, Eastman; Cappie Wilkin, Colquitt, Frank Sears, Shellman; Lorena Thomas, Quitman; Floy Simpson, Washington; Nonie Rawlings, Sandersville; Frances Hayes Fowler, Soperton, Anne Herndon, Elberton; Blossom Malone, Monticello; and Carolyn Vance, Ft. Valley.

Captains of Teams

Those who were captains of their high school basketball teams are: Hortense Tye, Edison; Margaret Cantrell, Cedartown; Clara Thomas, Patterson; Marjorie Andrews, Plains; Frank Sears, Shellman.

Adelaide Chen was a member of the tennis club at Blue Ridge, N. J. Alice Reppard was captain of the swimming team in Orlando, Fla.

Editors of School Publications

The Watchtower, student newspaper, and the Wesleyan, monthly magazine, are looking to these editors in the freshman class for material: Margaret Burch, Eastman; Augusta Lawson, Dublin; Ida Young, Macon; Helen Flanders, Macon; Moselle Burke, Washington; Frances Harris, Good Hope; Elizabeth Barnes, Quincy, Fla.; Virginia Askew, Arlington.

Class Presidents

Four of the freshmen were presidents of their senior class. These are Margaret Murphy, Macon; Marjorie Andrews, Plains; Clara Thomas, Patterson, and Margaret Cantrell, Cedartown.

Freshman Class Officers

Nancy Whitaker of Cartersville was appointed president of the freshman class. Other officers appointed were: Ruth Walker, Cochran, vice-president; Margaret Budd, Oxford, secretary and treasurer; Modena McPherson, Atlanta, sergeant-at-arms. Nancy Whitaker represented the Cartersville High School at the Seventh District School Meet last year. Ruth Walker is an honor graduate of Cochran High School, and Margaret Budd is an honor graduate of Emory Academy. She was also president of her literary society and literary editor of the annual. Modena McPherson came to Wesleyan from Washington Seminary in Atlanta, where she was president of the Athletic Association.

NEW GIRLS OF 1929-'30

This story will introduce the new girls at Wesleyan this fall to you, not as a mass, but as the "granddaughters, daughters, or sisters" or your old classmates. The information for it was given by the new girls themselves, including the entire freshman class and 37 transfers from other schools who are sophomores or juniors.

One member of the freshman class this fall is the great granddaughter of a Wesleyan alumna. She is Martha Bothwell, great granddaughter of Anna Belle (Tucker) Bothwell of the class of 1850.

Nine members of the class represent the third generation of their families to be students at Wesleyan. There are 24 daughters of alumnae (last year there were only twelve daughters); 36 of their sisters and 71 of their aunts came to Wesleyan.

Among the freshmen is Christine Quillian, daughter of Dr. W. F. Quillian, president of Wesleyan, and Nonie (Acree) Quillian of the class of 1909. She rooms in the freshman dormitory, and is in every way a regular boarding student, spending an occasional "week-end at home" and asking permissions of the councillor of women.

The great granddaughter of Professor F. A. Guttenberger, for 30 years teacher of piano at Wesleyan, Carolyn Lawton, is a freshman this fall.

The great granddaughter of A. R. Freeman, the first steward of Wesleyan, is also a member of the freshman class. She is Ida Young, an honor graduate of Lanier High School.

Lelia Culver Smith, freshman, is a granddaughter of Dr. Cosby Smith, loved teacher and at one time vice-president of Wesleyan, niece of Dr. Osborne Lewis Smith, of Dr.

DAUGHTERS AND GRANDDAUGHTERS OF ALUMNAE

FRONT ROW: Ruth Walker, Mary Griffin, Bess Duncan, Hermione Warren, Billie Watkins, Margaret Murphey, Martha Bothwell.

SECOND ROW: Ruth Fulwood, Alice Reppard, Louise Beckham, Julia Bell, Marianna Crittenden, Clara Jackson, Miriam Trimble.

THIRD ROW: Martha McCaw, Christine Quillian, Jane Northcutt, Suelle McKellar, Ida Young, Mary Jackson, Martha Dimon, Carolyn Lawton, Leila Smith, Julia Smith.

ANNA MAKARA
Student from Budapest, Hungary

Rufus Smith, cousin of Professor Leon P. Smith, Jr., all former professors in the college, and cousin of Professor Leon P. Smith, vice-president and head of the chemistry department. Her father, Julius Lundie Smith, was born and reared in the college.

The daughter of Professor I. E. McKellar, head of the department of ancient languages and of Anna Belle (McCrary) McKellar of 1910, is a member of the freshman class and boards in the college.

Frances Warren of Griffin is a niece of Professor and Mrs. G. E. Rosser of the Biblical literature department.

Linda (McKinney) Anderson, A.B., '93, has four nieces at Wesleyan this year, two of whom are freshmen. Margaret Cantrell of Cedartown, and Jeanne Manget of Shanghai, China, are freshmen. Jeanne's sister, Elizabeth, is a member of the sophomore class, and Elizabeth Anderson of Macon is a junior.

The granddaughter of Mary (Harris) Armor, the only woman upon whom Wesleyan has conferred the honorary LL.D. degree, is a freshman. She is Julia Adams Smith of Eastman.

From Budapest, Hungary

Wesleyan has this year a student from Hungary, recommended by the Association of International Education. She is Anna Makara, who is pursuing studies in philosophy and German philology, as well as securing material for the doctorate for which she is working at the University of Budapest. Her home is in Budapest, and she has spent most of her life there, though she is a native of Transylvania. Her father was professor on the medical faculty of the University of Budapest until his death several years ago.

Besides English and her native language, she speaks German and French fluently. She has a wide knowledge of English literature, having supplemented her study at the University of Budapest with special study in English. The subject of her dissertation is "The Effect of the Bible on English Literature of the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries."

Great Granddaughter of Alumnae

Martha Bothwell Anna Belle (Tucker) Bothwell, '50 (deceased)

Granddaughters of Alumnae

Ruth Fulwood	May (Goodman) Vickers, '85
Clara Jackson	Sara (Thomas) Jackson, '51 (deceased)
Mary Jackson	Sara (Thomas) Jackson, '51 (deceased)
Carolyn Lawton	Emma (Guttenberger) Nottingham, '69 (deceased)
Martha McCaw	Dellie (Carver) Rogers, '58 (deceased)
Martha McCowen	Mattie (Jones) Williams, '81
Suelle McKellar	Susie Adele (Berry) McCrary, '85
Margaret Murphey	Margaret (Ross) Plant
Julia Adams Smith	Mary (Harris) Armor (Honorary LL.D., '18)
Billy Watkins	Mollie (McCaskill) Rambo, '67
Elizabeth West	Amelia (Holmes) West, '74
	Crockett (Saville) Gay, '84

Daughters of Alumnae

Julia Bell	Lena (Fulghum) Bell, '95
Marianna Crittenden	Helen (Land) Crittenden, '01

Martha Dimon	Martha (Estes) Dimon
Bess Duncan	Mina (Wooten) Duncan, '03
Ruth Fulwood	Ruth (Vickers) Fulwood, '12
Mary Griffin	Bessie (Reese) Griffin, '08
Clara Jackson	Mozelle (Harris) Jackson, '03
Mary Jackson	Mozelle (Harris) Jackson, '03
Carolyn Lawton	May (Nottingham) Lawton, '97
Martha McCaw	Dellie (Rogers) McCaw, '91
Martha McCowen	Lena Mae (Williams) McCowen, '07
Suelle McKellar	Anna Belle (McCrory) McKellar, '10
Margaret Murphey	Fannie (Plant) Murphey, '05
Jane Northcutt	Lucile (Hatcher) Northcutt, '04
Christine Quillian	Nonie (Acree) Quillian, '09
Alice Reppard	Martha (O'Hara) Reppard, '04
Frank Sears	Lillian (Crittenden) Sears, '98
Julia Adams Smith	Fannie Lou (Armor) Smith, '08
Miriam Trimble	Buford (Lewis) Trimble, '14
Ruth Walker	Alice (Taylor) Walker, '07
Hermione Warren	Shirley (Allman) Warren, '95
Billy Watkins	Ermine (Rambo) Watkins, '06
Ida Young	Dell (Freeman) Young, '85

Sisters of Alumnae

Dorothy Armstrong	Katherine Armstrong, '27
Eunice Brinson	Irene Brinson, '19
Margaret Budd	Helen (Budd) Terry, '20
Lila Davidson	Jean Davidson, '29
Marianna Crittenden	Sara (Crittenden) Huie, '29
	Evelyn Crittenden, '27
Martha Dimon	Nell (Dimon) Read
Frances Dorsey	Katherine Dorsey, Junior
Virginia Ezzard	Dorothy Ezzard, '27
Erna Flanders	Erna Flanders, '19
	Bruce (Cleckler) Flanders, '22
Harriett Fiske	Mary Fiske, '29
Mildred Holder	Lois Holder, '29
Spencer Jack	Melissa Jack, Sophomore
Clara Jackson	Mary Jackson, Junior
Roba Jackson	Edna Jackson, '28
Carolyn Lawton	Emily Lawton, '23
Modena McPherson	Mary (Michaux) McPherson, '27
Blossom Malone	Elizabeth Malone, '31
Jeanne Manget	Elizabeth Manget, Sophomore
Gladys Meeks	Maidee Meeks, '27
Betty Jane Mullis	Nel Mullis, Senior
	Mary Dee Mullis, Sophomore
Johnnie Peterson	Charlye Peterson, '29
	Floye (Powell) Dumas, '14
	Mary Powell, '29
Caroline Radford	Ruth (Radford) Launius, '15
	Rosalie Radford, '24
Frank Sears	Grace Sears, '27
	Lillian Sears, '29
Eva Claire Shiver	Cornelia Shiver, '25
Irma Smith	Evelyn Smith, Senior

Margaret Sparks	Addis (Mims) Cubbedge, '18
	Frances (Mims) Stratton, '27
Clara Thomas	Mary Sue Thomas, '29
Lorena Thomas	Edwina (Teasley) Thomas, '16
Elrich Watson	Elizabeth Watson, '26

Nieces of Alumnae

Marjorie Andrews	Carrie (Andrews) Logan, '00
	Mattie (Stapleton) Hall, '15
Sue Walker Bailie	Susan (Goodrich) Walker
Julia Bell	Lula (Fulghum) Vincent, '93
	Maggie (Bell) Burdick, '90
Martha Bothwell	Mary (Lovejoy) Bothwell, '01 (Great-aunt)
Moselle Burke	Lucy (Lundy) Lyndon, '69 (Great-aunt)
Margaret Cantrell	Linda (McKinney) Anderson, '93
	Leila Anderson, '04
Marianna Crittenden	Eva Mae (Land) Smith, '01
	Hennie Mae (Crittenden) Bell, '04
	Emmie (Crittenden) Wooten, '88
Bess Duncan	Bessie (Wooten) Miller, '95
	Anna (Wooten) Lanier, '95
	Carrie (Wooten) Cooper, '04
Ruth Fulwood	Pat Fulwood, '21
	Carrie Fulwood, '08
	Elsie (Vickers) Cardwell, '14
	Mae (Vickers) Evans
Anne Gunter	Mamie (Gunter) Marshall, Art, '27
Nannie Clair Hicks	Mabel (Hicks) Warthen, '93
	Maggie (Rowe) Hicks, '83 (deceased)
	Mary Lee (Marshall) Hicks, '12
Augusta Lawson	Eva (Lawson) Neel, '00
Carolyn Lawton	Mattie (Chappell) Lawton, '07
	Corine (Lawton) Jordan, '97
	Julia Lee (Nottingham) Cook, '92 (deceased)
	Louisa (Guttenberger) Hunt, '69 (Great-aunt) (deceased)
	Fannie (Guttenberger) Link, '50 (Great-aunt) (deceased)
	Lelia (Willingham) Payne, '75 (Great-aunt)
	Elizabeth (Lawton) Gorman (deceased)
	Lucile (Ray) Lawton, '12
	Julia (Guttenberger) Davis, (Great-aunt) (deceased)
	Annie (Rushin) Willingham, '84 (Great-aunt)
Ruth Lee	Ruth (Whiting) Haslam, '07
Martha McCaw	Elizabeth (Rogers) Varnedoe, '77
	Julia Rogers, '58 (Great-aunt) (deceased)
	Martha Rogers, '84
	Hattie (Rogers) Goodwin, '87 (deceased)
Martha McCowen	Laura (Jones) Damour, '82 (Great-aunt) (deceased)
	Eugenia (Jones) Gantt, '75 (Great-aunt) (deceased)
Suelle McKellar	Mildred (McCrory) McKellar, '24
	Addie (Smith) Munro, '90
	Ella Clare McKellar, '07
Louise McLeod	Louise (Daniel) Leake, '93
Jeanne Manget	Linda (McKinney) Anderson, '93
	Leila Anderson, '04

Margaret Murphey	Margaret (Plant) Hatcher, '00
	Viola (Ross) Ross (?) '01 (Great-aunt)
	Martha (Plant) Ellis, '13
	Waldron (Roberts) Plant, '05

Aunts of the Alumnae

Jane Northcutt	Martha Hatcher, '84
	Susie Mae (Rumph) Hatcher, '99
	Olive (McWilliams) Hatcher
Frank Sears	India Bell (Crittenden) Davis, '03
Ruth Shankle	Amelia (Shankle) Perkins, '85
	Ida (Shankle) Hardeman (deceased)
Floy Simpson	Camilla (Pharr) Barnett, '12
Julia Adams Smith	Mattie (Armor) Hale, '18
Virginia Stanton	Lucy (Keen) Johnson, '94 (Great aunt)
Ruth Walker	Annie (Taylor) Peacock, '08
Hermoine Warren	Stella (Allman) Wooten, '93
Billy Watkins	Willa Vida (Rambo) Murph, '00
Eldrich Watson	Lucy (Watson) Matthews, '20
	Anne (Patten) Watson
	Annie (Laney) Watson, '89
Elizabeth West	Mozelle (Baldwin) Wise, '10
Wynelle Wheelless	Mary (Chatfield) Wheelless, '20
Cappie Wilkin	Nellie (Wilkin) Bird, '84
Ida Young	Hattie (Freeman) Griswold, '80
	Fannie (Freeman) Taylor, '92

CONSERVATORY STUDENTS

Granddaughters of Alumnae

Pansy Carter	Mary (Burkhalter) Carter
Emma Law	Clara (Jones) Law (deceased)
Augusta Mallory	Clara (Smith) Lanier

Daughters of Alumnae

Carolyn Blackshear	Annie (Hardeman) Blackshear
Pansy Carter	Gussie (Kimbrough) Carter
Katherine Fleming	Kate (Williams) Fleming, '96
Josephine Fuqua	Mildred (Stroud) Fuqua, '03
Louise Kilpatrick	Louise (Montfort) Kilpatrick, '00
Lenelle Lee	May (Hicks) Lee, '06
Mary Hester Richardson	Opal (Elder) Richardson, '04
Lynne Torbert	Willihue (Carter) Torbert
Josephine Willingham	Kate (Coleman) Willingham

Nieces of Alumnae

Patti Virginia Appleby	Mary Lou (Appleby) Roberts
Tempie Burson	Florence (Powell) Burson, '11
Pansy Carter	Florence (Kimbrough) Thomas, '09
Evalyn Crawford	Caroline Fair
May Ware Daley	Pauline (Daley) Burch, '96
	Frances (Wooten) Daley, '19
	Rowena (Daley) Burford, '08
	Janie Lee (Gardner) Ware, '22
Katherine Fleming	Eunice (Williams) Willingham, '96
Dorothy Griffin	Cortez (Greene) Little, '09
Emmie Louise Harvey	Elizabeth (Witte) Harvey, '07
Josephine Hunt	Alice Mae (Perry) Collier, '16
Emma Law	Jessie (Lane) Mathis, '78 (Great-aunt)

Virginia Miller	Annie (Miller) Smith, '12
	Mamie (Miller) Morgan
	Emma (Miller) Tripp
	Leona (Miller) Matthews
Mary Hester Richardson	Beryl Elder, '16
	Pearl Elder, '18
Lynne Torbert	Pauline Carter, '26
Barnelia Woodward	Louie (Fenn) Woodward, '06
Florrie Warren	Neppie (Warren) Holland, '94
Josephine Willingham	Edith (Stetson) Coleman, '97
	Bertha (Willingham) Seibels, '92
	Lila (Willingham) Erminger

Sisters of Alumnae

Donnie Anderson	Elizabeth Anderson, '26
	Agnes Anderson, '28
Yona Bell	Callie (Bell) Webb, '08
Bennie Rose Brooks	Pauline (Brooks) Guerry, '28
	Corene Brooks, '29
Jamie Jenkins	Madge (Jenkins) McGrawhorn, '24
Mary Bance Joiner	Nan Joiner, '24
	Katherine Joiner, '16
Augusta Mallory	Re Lee (Mallory) Brown, '26
Rachael Mays	Annie Mays, '28
Josephine Willingham	Aileen (West) Willingham, '28

CONSERVATORY DAUGHTERS AND GRANDDAUGHTERS OF ALUMNAE
 Front Row: Emma Law, Mary Hester Richardson, Josephine Fuqua, Katherine Fleming.
 Second Row: Lenelle Lee, Augusta Mallory, Lynn Torbert, Pansy Carter.

HOW THE FACULTY SPENT THE SUMMER

Dr. Quillian, when he was not at Wesleyan, attended conferences at Lake Junaluska, and preached in North Carolina, Alabama, and Georgia.

Professor J. W. W. Daniel spent the summer at home on Forsyth Road with Mrs. Daniel and "Betty Jane."

Professor and Mrs. M. C. Quillian attended the National Education Association in Atlanta in June, and spent the rest of the summer in Macon. Their home was saddened by the death of Mrs. Quillian's mother in September.

Professor and Mrs. G. E. Rosser spent the summer in New Jersey and New York. He did special work in the libraries of Drew Seminary and Union Seminary, and she studied at Columbia University and at Union Seminary.

Professor Leon P. Smith taught science at Mercer Summer School, attended the meeting of the N. A. E. in Atlanta and was present at ten district conferences in Georgia. He wrote a series of articles for the newspapers on scientific subjects.

Dr. Iris L. Whitman traveled in France, England, Scotland, and Ireland.

Dr. S. L. Akers, new professor of psychology, received the Ph.D. degree from Yale University.

Mrs. Margaret Cutter Elder did graduate study at Mercer University.

Miss Leona Letson studied at the University of Michigan.

Miss Isabelle Kinnett was director of a scout camp for girls near Macon.

Miss Katherine P. Carnes studied during the summer at the University of Michigan, and is on a year's leave of absence for further study this year.

Miss Jennie Loyall spent the summer in Europe.

Miss Virginia Wendel took an eastern trip during the summer.

Miss Margaret Bell made drawings for the John H. Harland Company of Atlanta. In June, she received the M.S. degree from Mercer University.

Miss Martha Kern, new instructor in French, studied during the summer at the University of Paris.

Miss Maude Chaplin, Miss Christine Broome, Miss Louise Rivers, and Miss Edna Patterson spent the summer at home.

Miss Lois Rogers taught in the Pastors' School which was held at the Conservatory in June.

Professor I. E. McKellar supplied at the First Presbyterian Church in Macon and taught at Mercer Summer School.

Miss M. Virginia Garner spent the summer in Europe.

Dr. Jane E. Wolf spent the summer studying and traveling in France.

Dr. W. K. Greene taught summer school at Duke, at Lake Junaluska and later at Durham.

Miss Ernestine Grote studied at the University of Michigan.

Professor Claude Bruce worked with Dr. H. T. Hebon on a text on practical astronomy.

Miss Agnes Hamilton spent the summer in Europe.

Miss Helen Bartlett did graduate study at George Washington University.

Miss Eleanor Neill studied at Duke University.

PROFESSOR ROSSER AND MISS ROGERS
WAITING FOR THE WESLEYAN BUS

The Conservatory Teachers

Professor and Mrs. Maerz spent their vacation in the mountains of North Georgia and in New York.

PROF. DANIEL AND "BETTY JANE"

Professor Howerton was in New York and Washington. While in Washington he was guest artist at the First Baptist Church. He spent three weeks in research work in a New York library and some time in Portland, where he gave a vocal concert.

Mrs. Doris Onderdonk J e l k s spent her vacation at Lake Burton.

Miss Rosetta Rivers studied in Gloucester, Mass., and in Booth Bay, Maine.

Professor Kraft studied at Cleveland, Ohio, taking a course in observation and teaching methods.

Professor Lewis Thomas spent the summer in New York and in the mountains of north Georgia.

Miss Anne C. Wallace completed her work at Emerson College for the degree Bachelor of Literary Interpretation.

Miss Hazel Turner spent the summer at home and in North Carolina.

Mrs. L. J. Comer spent the summer in Europe.

Miss Ray Ballard traveled in Europe during the summer.

Mrs. Mildred McCrory Mitchell combined vacation and honeymoon in one. She has an apartment on Georgia Avenue this year, and is still registrar and English teacher at the conservatory.

Miss Zillah Halstead, Miss Elizabeth Anderson, Miss Loulie Barnett, and Mrs. Malcolm Jones spent the summer at home.

ALUMNAE CONTRIBUTE TO EDUCATION THROUGH THE LOYALTY FUND

The class of 1886 leads all others in two counts: the largest per cent. of contributors, and the largest amount given, 79% of their members giving $117.

The class of 1862 follows with the second highest per cent., 67%, two of their three living members contributing.

1883 gave the second largest amount, $111. They have the honor also of the largest individual contribution, $105, from Callie Law Dean.

1884 boasts the first life-time contributor in Love Moreland Leigh; 1878, the second in Carrie Tracey (Johnston) Duncan. She is the first life-time contributor from Macon.

Although it is impossible to reckon these things, our guess would be that 1873 and 1902 had gifts accompanied by as large an amount of love and loyalty as any other in the $10 sent by Clifford Heywood Shinholser, for many years beloved piano teacher of Wesleyan, and in the $35 sent by Nettie Peacock from her missionary work in China.

1912 has the only son of an alumna who is a life-time contributor, Marvin Pierce, son of Walter Tilly. This class has more contributions from alumnae children than any other.

The youngest contributor is Mary Lane Edwards of the class of 1949, daughter of Emily Brown Edwards of 1926.

All gifts are a reward of the efforts of the class leaders. Note the even results of the group of reunion classes 1905, '06, '07, '08, whose secretaries stirred up interest in good reunions; their percentage was 47, 53, 57.1, and 57.5 respectively. The banner class 1886, was a reunioner also. The two classes with the lowest per cent. of givers have had secretaries who were incapacitated.

1913 had 13 contributors; 1926 had 26.

In all 516 alumnae gave $1,389.50.

This amount together with the $1,251.46 raised by club benefits makes the total deposit $2,640.96, which is drawing compound interest for the Alumnae Building.

THE LOYALTY FUND

Class	25%	50%	75%	100%	Members No. Living with Addresses	Contributors	Per Cent.	Amount
1857					3	1	33	$ 2.00
1862					3	2	67	4.00
1867					2	1	50	2.00
1869					8	1	12	5.00
1870					6	3	50	7.00
1873					14	4	29	17.00
1874					5	1	20	1.00
1875					12	5	42	26.00
1876					18	3	17	9.00
1877					10	2	20	2.00
1878					19	10	53	45.00
1879					17	5	29	5.00
1880					13	4	30	4.00
1881					19	2	10	2.00
1882					15	6	40	11.00
1883					20	3	15	111.00
1884					21	5	23	29.00
1885					22	8	36	15.00
1886					28	22	79	117.00
1887					30	14	47	37.00
1888					35	16	46	34.00
1889					25	5	20	10.00
1890					30	11	37	38.00
1891					44	13	30	30.00
1892					38	12	33	19.00
1893					42	12	29	41.00
1894					36	14	39	43.50
1895					37	2	5	11.00
1896					34	7	18	9.50
1897					33	12	36	26.50
1898					17	5	29	13.00
1899					10	1	10	2.00
1900					14	6	43	19.00
1901					20	5	25	9.00
1902					19	6	32	46.00
1903					33	8	24	22.00
1904					32	7	22	16.00
1905					34	16	47	40.00
1906					36	19	53	50.50
1907					28	16	57.1	45.00
1908					33	19	57.5	49.00
1909					30	5	17	14.00
1910					21	2	10	3.00
1911					20	5	25	6.00
1912					25	11	44	43.00
1913					34	13	38	26.00
1914					18	1	6	1.00
1915					23	2	9	2.00
1916					29	15	52	31.00
1917					26	3	12	5.00
1918					39	15	38	37.00
1919					37	10	27	21.00
1920					42	10	24	20.00
1921					40	5	10	5.00
1922					51	8	15	15.00
1923					43	13	30	27.00
1924					78	15	19	27.00
1925					62	16	26	22.00
1926					82	26	32	43.50
1927					81	11	14	16.00
1928					82	18	21	35.00

GLIMPSES OF THE CLASS OF '29

Drawings by Mary K. Read, A.B., '25

Blithely enough they tripped away from the campus with their 'dips' last May, but many of them were back for the week-end before October, and there were telegrams from some of them at the opening of school "wishing to be a freshman again!"

Studying

Elizabeth Allmond is taking a business course in Columbus.

Mary Fiske is working on her master's degree at Emory University.

Elizabeth Fort is taking a business course in Columbus.

Elizabeth Jones is studying for the M.A. degree at Columbia University.

Martha Munro is studying art at Athens College, Ala.

Annie Louise Page is studying at the Carnegie Library School in Atlanta.

Allie Stephens is also at Library School in Atlanta.

Marjorie Taylor is taking a business course at home in Fall River, Mass.

Teaching

The following are teaching:

Catherine Alley, Barney, Ga.

Martha Benton, English and history in Cave Springs, Ga.

Bernice Bassett; Byromville, Ga. Bernice has been at Wesleyan for a visit since she began teaching and registered in the "Alumnae Book."

Corene Brooks, Cuthbert, Ga.

Virginia Bull, Menlo, Ga.

Elmina Chambers, Log Cabin Grammar School, Macon, Ga.

Frances Campbell, English and French in Mansfield, Ga.

Clifford Clark, Raeford, N. C.

Essie Mae Cobb, principal and mathematics teacher at Roberta. Essie Mae spent a week-end at Wesleyan in September.

Merk Eula Crow, Midville, Ga.

Margaret Edenfield, Lanier High School, Macon, Ga.

Annie Ruth Elder, Fayetteville, Ga.

Bessie Will Elrod, Crossville, Ala.

Helen Kate Forrester, Attapulugus, Ga.

Elizabeth Gill, Moultrie, Ga.

Helen Goodman, Lake Worth, Fla.

Clara Nell Hargrove, Douglas, Ga.

Lois Holder, Lumpkin, Ga.

Elva Kensinger, Tampa, Fla. Elva's address is 5301 Central Ave.

Martha Lamar, Consolidated School, Evans, Ga.

Sara Lamons, supply teacher of typing, Lanier High School.

Mary Brooks Lester, math and physics in Hampton, Ga.

Katherine McCamy, Rome, Ga. Katherine spent the summer in Europe.

Eleanor McDonald, grammar school, Atlanta, Ga.

Frances McNeill, Fayetteville, Ga.

Thelma Miller, Jeffersonville, Ga.

Estelle Morgan, Latin in Hickory, N. C.

Gladys Moss, science in Calhoun, Ga.

Martha Orr, Junior high school, Waynesboro, Ga.

Edith Partin, Andrew College, Cuthbert, Ga. Edith is sponsor of the senior class at Andrew.

Thelma Ray, The Rock, Ga.

Mary Reeves, Swainsboro, Ga.

Lucy Rosser, LaFayette, Ga.

Hortense Royal, Arabi, Ga.

Lillian Sears, Parrott, Ga.

Charlotte Shields, expression in LaFayette, Ga.

Mildred Stephens, Lakeland, Fla.

Geraldine Wheeler, Porterdale, Ga. Geraldine has been back for a visit to Wesleyan this fall.

Mary Winn, Cordele, Ga. Mary spent one week-end at Wesleyan in October.

Cecelia Wright, Temple, Ga.

Other Occupations

Anna Perry Davis is secretary to the president of Emory University.

Dorothy Hunnicutt, secretary of League of Women Voters with offices in Atlanta.

Helen Lowe is assistant librarian at Wesleyan this year.

Allie Silliman is house mother for 24 girls aged 6, 7, and 8 in Gould Cottage, St. Johnland, King's Park, L. I., N. Y.

Nancy Stewart, secretary of the French department at Wesleyan. Nancy spent the summer in Europe. She is studying French and Italian at Wesleyan this year.

Naomi Welch is working in a bank in Columbus.

Married

Eleanor Royal to Joe Ogburn of Macon, in August.

Ruth Winter to S. T. Latimer of Geneva, Ala., in August.

Newspaper Work

Allene Brown is working with her father on his paper in Cordele, Ga.

Lillian Shearouse is assistant to the editor of the woman's page, Queen's County Journal, Jamaica, L. I. She writes up the news of interest to women and writes one feature article a week. Lil studied short story writing at Columbia University during the summer.

Constance Tindall is assistant to the editor of the newspaper in Douglas, Ga.

At Home

Jean Davidson is at home in Augusta. She was ill during the summer but is much improved now. Jean plans to study some this winter at Medical College in Augusta.

AND ON SEPTEMBER 18, 1929

Mary Henderson is in Cartersville.

Ruth Mann is in Atlanta. She spent a week-end with Miss Patterson at Wesleyan this fall.

Eleanor McDonald is at home in Atlanta.

Edna Percy is at home in Dalton.

Estelle Perkins is in Lumpkin.

Mary Powell is in Villa Rica. She goes up to the Atlanta Conservatory to take music.

Alfreda Stanley is at home in Dublin.

EX-GOVERNOR HARRIS, TRUSTEE OF WESLEYAN, DIES

Former Governor Nat E. Harris, one of the most outstanding figures in the history of Georgia in recent years, and for more than forty years a trustee of Wesleyan College, died September 21.

For the stirring years during which he was Georgia's governor, his life intimately connected with three wars in the country's history, for his valiant and successful fight for the establishment of a technological school in Georgia, and for his entire life of high and noble consecration to the public good, he will be remembered.

The body lay at the home of General Walter A. Harris, son of Governor Harris, before the funeral services. Many prominent men from various parts of Georgia and other states came to honor his memory.

All college activities at Georgia Tech ceased until after the funeral, and the flag at the college was flown at half mast.

In April of this year, as ex-Governor Harris and Mrs. Harris were en route from their winter home in Florida to their summer home in Hampton, Tennessee, they made a tour of the new Wesleyan plant at Rivoli. Though his impaired vision made it possible for him to see the buildings but dimly, he said, "If my heart could be seen, one could always see a picture of Wesleyan College."

Both of ex-Governor Harris' daughters are Wesleyan alumnae, Carrie (Harris) Hazlehurst, '90, and Fannie Byrdie (Harris) Campbell, '04.

PUTTING "LIT" INTO SUNDAY SCHOOL LITERATURE

Rebecca Caudill, A.B., '20

Rebecca Caudill has had a most interesting career since her graduation from Wesleyan in 1920. First she went to South America to teach in a mission school. Returning after a year and a half because of the illness of her father, she went to Vanderbilt University where she was granted a fellowship one month after she entered, and where she received the M.A. degree. Then, as she tells in this article, she went to the Methodist Publishing House in Nashville to edit "The Torchbearer," a magazine for girls. In 1928 she attended the World Peace Congress in Holland. It was during a recent visit to Wesleyan and Miss Armand that she promised to write something about her work for "The Wesleyan Alumnae."

I have never told my "boss" what I am now going to reveal to Wesleyan alumnae. He needed an assistant editor for the Sunday school periodicals, particularly for the Torchbearer, a magazine for girls, and having heard Miss Garner speak more or less kindly of me, he wrote me a letter. Would I consider the job, IF I measured up to his requirements? he wanted to know.

I was in Toronto at the time, and all during that summer we kept the mails busy with the most noncommittal correspondence I have ever been privileged to read. It was an art, writing those letters. Each was trying to find out something about the other, and neither of us wanted to reveal anything about ourselves.

Finally we arrived at a deadlock, ingenuity being exhausted on both sides, so he wired me to come down for an interview. I learned from the interview that I would be expected to take the Torchbearer off the editor's hands (he had been publishing a platitudinous letter every week and signing himself "Peggy," consequently getting himself into more trouble than he could get out of); that I was to be the assistant editor and do all the work. We "interviewed" all of one afternoon, with the result that because I wanted to get into an editorial office, I took the job and left with half a dozen Torchbearers hidden under my arm.

That night my sister Alma, of the class of '24, and I were going home together on the train.

I produced the Torchbearers. "Alma," I implored, "I have cold chills every time I look at these things. Please do read them for me like the sweet child you are, and tell me if they're just too positively awful for words. If the stories are goody-goody and if the editorials are sweet little sermons, I know I just can't stand it!"

(You see, I had the same idea of papers passed around every Sunday morning in the Sunday school that you have.)

Alma read. For an hour and a half she read, and all that while I wouldn't even look at her for fear of learning the worst. Finally she handed the papers back with the remark: "Why these aren't half bad." And truly they weren't!

There is all the difference in the world in editorial offices and editors, and the young editor is lucky to be associated with maturer editors who have very definite and high standards for their magazines. Fortunately I did not have to create any standards. They were already here, waiting to be lived up to. Perhaps I should say waiting to be worked up to. And work it has been; and if it has not all been exciting it has certainly not been monotonous, for I learned at once that the task of assistant editor consisted of everything from dusting the dial telephone to persuading ten-cent-a-word authors to sell me their best stories at half a cent a word and get a kick out of doing it.

REBECCA CAUDILL, A.B. 1920

For five years we have been consciously striving to reach and maintain an unusually high literary standard in the Torchbearer. When people referred to it as a "little magazine," we indignantly stopped up our ears and resolved all the harder that quality should count. To make a long story short, for the past three years no serial story has appeared in the Torchbearer that has not been published later in book form by one of the higher class of publishing houses.

The greatest distinction that has yet come to the magazine, however, is the fact that within twelve months it carried serially the book that was later to receive the Newberry Medal for 1928, "The Trumpeter of Krakow," by Eric P. Kelly, and the runner-up for the same award, "The Dragon Fly of Zuni," by Mrs. Alida Sims Malkus. The last was published in book form with the Torchbearer illustrations by the famous artist and traveller in Africa, Erick Berry, and the first was especially illustrated for the magazine by the most famous of all illustrators of juvenile books—Boris Artzybasheff.

And if you haven't been able to read between the lines of this article that editing a magazine for girls is a most thrilling, breath-taking job, then you've missed the point entirely.

REMINISCENCES OF 1865-'66

Vista (Allen) Redding, '69

When Lee surrendered at Appomattox, Wesleyan sent her girls home and closed her doors because that firebrand, Sherman, had begun his infamous march through Georgia. My oldest sister, Sallie (Allen) Babcock, came home to that aristocratic old town of Perry, Ga., where my father was pastor.

This town was also the home of Alice (Culler) Cobb. She prepared me for college. In September my sister returned to college and I with her. Georgia was under military rule and General Stoneman was in command at Macon.

A Yankee Serenade

One Saturday afternoon about three weeks after school had opened, we girls who roomed on the front were surprised to see a brass band clad in Yankee blue setting up their music rests directly in front of the college across the street. As the first notes of "See the Conquering Hero Comes," burst forth, a wave of indignation went through the rooms and girls called to each other, "Listen! The very air Grant marched into Richmond by! Don't listen to the old music!" And with one accord every one of us went pell-mell downstairs and out in the back yard, thus putting the old college building between us and that hateful music. We proceeded to make all the noise we could for about a half hour. Then Dr. Bonnell, of blessed memory, came out on the back gallery, accompanied by the bandmaster. Raising his hand to quiet us rebels, he said, "Young ladies, the musicians would like to know what air you would like them to play."

"Dixie! Dixie!" we every one shouted and went rushing upstairs calling to the girls who had rooms on the back to come to the front windows. As the first notes of "Dixie" rose on the air, every window blind was thrown wide open, which was against the

VISTA (ALLEN) REDDING
About the Time She was at Wesleyan

college rules, yet no mention of it was ever heard. As the musicians departed we gave them a hearty hand-clapping. One of us said, "If we had given them the rebel yell, I bet they would have run from habit, and forgot their music rests."

They played for us every Saturday as long as they were in garrison and always closed with "Dixie." We girls sat quietly behind closed blinds till then, when blinds were thrown open to catch every note of the beloved Southern air.

In School With Sidney Lanier

I have often made the statement that I was in college with Sidney Lanier, and so I was. The boarding department was not full, and to meet the current expenses a number of citizens were taken to board. Among them were Sidney Lanier and his sister, Miss Gertrude and their father. A Mr. Day and his daughter, Miss Mamie, were two others who had rooms in the college. How lovely she was! Just recovering from a severe illness, she reminded one of a rare precious jewel. (Such must have been Lanier's thoughts, too, for that romance began to develop before our eyes. How thrilled we were! And how we tried not to show it, for their love seemed too good and pure for just an every-day affair!

Miss Day was an accomplished pianist and no one ever played the flute (that flute that had comforted his comrades in arms in prison) like Sidney Lanier. They were so gracious as to play for us girls on Friday nights in the college library. Were ever school girls so honored before or since!

Miss Gertrude Lanier was married that term. She had rooms in the basement, and she sent for some of us girls to come down and see her in her bridal array before the carriage came with the groom to take her to the Presbyterian church. The fortunate man was a physician from New Orleans. I recall the look on her brother's face as he went with her to the carriage.

Other Interesting Guests

Our matron on the third floor was Miss Kate Clesky. She was from Mobile and was a Catholic. Father Ryan, that devoted friend and poet of the South was also from Mobile. He came to see Miss Kate several times and she was always eager for her favorites among the girls to meet her friend and father confessor. If you looked at his person, he looked poor and shabby, but no one had eyes for anything but his noble face and head. His ardent love for the South and for the soldiers enshrines him in all our hearts.

Dr. Goulding, author of "The Young Marooners" and "Marooners' Island," was an interesting boarder, too. I had an autographed copy of his book, "Young Marooners," but it was loaned out time and again and then someone failed to return it. How many of my books have gone that way! My friends are like Sir Walter Scott says his were: "poor mathematicians but fine book-keepers."

College Pranks in 1865

Our room, number 15, was directly over Dr. Bonnell's study. At the opening of the term in 1867, our new roommate was Nannie Hunt. She was a large, fine-looking girl with a throaty voice that sang bass like a man. The first time she sang with us around the old piano that stood at the end of the hall, Dr. Bonnell came up to see what man had found his way into the Dovecote. He stayed and joined in with his tenor.

How we enjoyed it all! Nannie danced beautifully and vehemently and didn't mind dancing the double shuffle, a plantation negro dance, right over Dr. Bonnell's head. One night, when she had been dancing, there came a knock at our door and a messenger handed me a note. I took it, and read aloud, "Compliments of John M. Bonnell to the inmates of No. 15, hoping the insanity that has pervaded their little circle will soon disappear without proving contagious."

"Oh, Nannie!" we all exclaimed. "He is going to take you out of our room!" and almost wept, for we loved the big, warm-hearted girl. Sure enough, the next morning Nannie was moved to the farthest corner of the building.

I do not know if any of my classmates are still living, class of 1868, except that dear, dainty Sallie White. My father died the summer of '67 and Sallie's mother died that summer, too. We neither one returned to Wesleyan.

Lovely Annie Rose became my niece; I married A. S. Redding and she married Edgar Ross, his nephew. How she tried to tease me, calling me "aunty!"

I've always felt as if I belonged to Wesleyan. My oldest sister and youngest sister, Mrs. Fred Johnston, both graduated there, and two of my other sisters taught there, Miss Emily Allen (Mrs. Frank Siler) and Miss Elizabeth Allen (Mrs. C. E. Patillo).

I've been quite a gypsy and have looked on life through many windows. I have taught school in Georgia from under the shadow of the Blue Ridge to within sight of Tybee Light, and have held the state license in four other states. I'm in my eightieth year, a great grandmother. I would like to hear from some of my classmates. Sallie White (Mrs. Robert Render of Atlanta) writes to me occasionally and I have had one delightful visit to her and her niece.

CLUBS

MIAMI CLUB TEA

In the spring the Miami Wesleyan Club entertained 300 high school girls with a tea, inviting Eliza (Hill) Martin, A.B. '06, to speak to them during the afternoon about Wesleyan. Following is Mrs. Martin's account of the entertainment, one of the most successful ever sponsored by a Wesleyan Club.

I must tell you of the wonderful privilege I had this summer in visiting the Miami Chapter of the Wesleyan Alumnae at a Garden Tea.

Ruth (Houser) Garrett is president of the chapter and a live wire she is, having aroused a splendid spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm among the alumnae there.

She and the Miami alumnae planned this beautiful Garden Tea for the 'sweet girl graduates' of the high schools of Dade County. Only those who have visited Miami and recall the loveliness of the garden in the rear of the Royal Palm Hotel overlooking Biscayne Bay can visualize the beauty of the setting for such an occasion.

This chapter issued three hundred engraved invitations in Wesleyan colors to these young lady graduates of high schools. Mrs. Garrett is a worker and she and her chapter planned this tea not only beautiful in every detail, but with a most interesting program of Wesleyan talent as well. After the tea the young ladies were seated, and at the conclusion of the program were told of the magnificent Greater Wesleyan plant with its architectural beauty and its exceptional college advantages, as well as the pleasant and happy surroundings which help to make college life mean so much to a student. They were told of Wesleyan's high rank in the Association of Colleges, of its historic background and of what it has accomplished down through the years in sending forth, as Bishop Candler has said, "Women to be cornerstones in our civilization, fitted for a heavenly service and polished after the similitude of a palace."

Many of the girls expressed a desire to go to Wesleyan, and how I did covet each one of them for my Alma Mater! I cannot imagine a prettier sight than that bevy of sweet young womanhood in their vari-colored garden frocks dotted here and there among the flowers of the Royal Palm Gardens.

The Miami Chapter forgot no detail. The photographers and reporters were on hand, and the next day the Miami dailies ran pictures and interesting accounts of the Tea.

Let's get the spirit of the Miami Chapter and go forward for Greater Wesleyan!

PERRY CLUB

The Wesleyan alumnae of Perry held their annual meeting at a dinner at the New Perry Hotel in September. The president, Aurelia (Cooper) Evans, A.B., '24, was toast-mistress. Toasts were given "To Wesleyan of the Past," by Kate (Hurst) Davis, "To the Future of Wesleyan," by Bessie (Houser) Nunn, "To the Spirit of Wesleyan," by Martha Cooper, "To the Traditions of Wesleyan" by Louise Houser, and "To Wesleyan Girls from Emory Boys," by Mr. H. P. Houser.

The Wesleyan colors, lavender and purple, were effectively carried out in the decorations and favors.

Alumnae present were: Aurelia (Cooper) Evans, Bessie (Houser) Nunn, Eva (Dasher) Harris, Kate (Hurst) Davis, Eliza (Catter) Masee, Louise Houser, Laura Gilbert, Martha Cooper, Helen Bloodworth, and Pearl (Davis) Beall.

SAVANNAH GIRLS ENTERTAINED BY MISS ARMAND

The nine Savannah girls attending Wesleyan this fall were entertained with a swimming party during the summer by Miss Banks Armand, Bursar. Miss Armand was at Tybee for her vacation.

Catherine Rourk, '21, who is teaching in the Savannah High School, assisted in entertaining. The Savannah Alumnae Club, of which Marjorie (Rantz) Perkins, '20, is president, has approximately 50 members.

TERRELL COUNTY CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Twenty members of the Terrell County Wesleyan Club met at the home of Gladys (Dismuke) Newman of August 28, for their summer meeting. Reports were made of work done during the year and plans made for further benefits. The following program was rendered:

"The Loyalty Fund" by Gladys (Dismuke) Newman, A.B., '22; "Is College Expensive?" by Lucile Hill, '32, of Sasser; "Terrell Club Makes Grade A," by Ella (Christie) Melton, A.B., '03, president of the club; "An Echo from Commencement in 1929," by Belle Cheatham, A.B., '79; "The New Wesleyan," by Autrey Lewis, A.B., '25.

AUGUSTA CLUB ENTERTAINS NEW GIRLS

The Augusta Wesleyan Club entertained the new girls who were coming to Wesleyan this fall at the home of Lucille Trowbridge, president of the Student Alumnae Club of that district, immediately before the opening of school.

Augusta has 22 girls at Wesleyan this year.

GRIFFIN ALUMNAE CLUB

The Wesleyan Alumnae Club of Griffin held a most interesting meeting in September at the home of Elizabeth (Wilson) Newton on Hill Street.

Elmer (Grace) Newton, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Lillie (Rivers) Griffin gave a report of the rummage sale which the club recently sponsored, realizing a nice sum.

Carrie Eakes read an interesting article on scholarships, and an invitation from Lucy (Evans) Stephens, president of the Atlanta Wesleyan Club, to the tea which the Atlanta Club was giving for the Wesleyan students of this year. The next meeting of the club was announced for the second Tuesday in December.

At the conclusion of the business session, an informal social time was enjoyed.

JONES COUNTY WESLEYAN CLUB

The Jones County Club held their 1929 club benefit in September. They sent in a check for the Alumnae House Fund, and are planning their 1930 benefit in October. We have not heard how the Jones County Club raised this money, but the next magazine will carry the account of both benefits.

ATLANTA CLUB HONORS WES- LEYAN STUDENTS

The Atlanta Wesleyan Club, with Lucy (Evans) Stephens as president, entertained the girls who were leaving for Wesleyan in September with a beautiful tea at the Druid Hills Golf Club, September 13.

The officers and chairmen assisted in the entertainment of the guests. These are: Lucy (Evans) Stephens, Virginia (Fraser) Pratt, Nannaline (King) Byrd, Emily (Melton) McNelly, Maybelle (Jones) Dewey, Margaret (Zattau) Roan, Mildred (Shelton) Stokes, Anne (Tripp) Rambo, Dorothy (Rogers) Tilly, Exa (Brown) Bryant, Mildred Gower, Ida (Price) Truitt, Olive (DeFoor) Brittain, May (Wooten) Brower, Regina (Hays) Asher, Emily Jane (Wimpy) Fraser, Mattie Sue (Taylor) Phillips, Floye (Powell) Dumas.

Cliff Mable had arranged a delightful musical program.

Punch was served by Dorothy Hunnicutt. Twenty-six students of the college and conservatory were the guests of honor. The Wesleyan alumnae clubs of Newnan, Marietta, Griffin, Grantville, and Carrollton were invited to attend the reception.

A large number of alumnae from Atlanta and nearby towns were present and the students brought enthusiastic accounts of the reception to Wesleyan.

In August the members of the executive board of the Atlanta Wesleyan Club met with Mrs. Stephens to plan the work for the year. Announcement was made of the national recognition received by the Atlanta

Club at the American Alumni Council held during the summer in Canada. The club is planning to make a gift to the Candler Memorial Library. This, with special work among the groups and in the high schools, will be the outstanding feature of the year.

EVERYTHING AND ANYTHING

PROFESSORS ATTEND MEETINGS

Dr. W. K. Greene and Professor J. W. W. Daniel returned in October to their Alma Mater, Wofford College, in Spartanburg, S. C., to attend the 75th anniversary of its founding. Every southern college sent a representative for the occasion.

Miss M. Virginia Garner attended the Dixie Inter-collegiate Press Association in Chattanooga, Tenn., October 18. Miss Garner addressed the association on School Publicity. She was the only teacher of journalism scheduled to speak.

TEA AT LAKE JUNALUSKA

President and Mrs. W. F. Quillian entertained at their summer home at Lake Junaluska during the summer for the college alumnae and faculty members at the southern assembly. Bishop Ainsworth, a former president of Wesleyan, and Mary (Nicholson) Ainsworth, of the class of '91, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Quillian in receiving and about 30 guests were present.

PHI MU SCHOLARSHIP FUND

The Phi Mu Fraternity, founded at Wesleyan in 1852, as the Philomathean Society, in order to express their love and appreciation to Wesleyan, authorized a fund of $5,000 in 1927, the interest from this fund to be used as the trustees saw fit, as a loan, as a scholarship, or as an award for special research or essays.

CONSERVATORY WEDDINGS

The Conservatory lost two voice teachers during the summer by marriage, Miss Katherine Melson and Miss Madge Kennon. Miss Melson was married to Mr. Angus Birdsey of Macon and Miss Kennon to Mr. Ayer Hatcher of Macon.

Mr. Birdsey is connected with the Birdsey Flour Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Birdsey will live at the Masee Apt.

Mr. Hatcher is vice-president of the Hatcher-Turpin Company of Macon

OLDEST ALUMNA CELEBRATES NINETY-FIRST BIRTHDAY

Loula (Kendall) Rogers, A.B., '57, was honored by her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCrary of Decatur in September, with a party on her ninety-first birthday. Decorations of lavender were used throughout the house. Thirty-five guests were invited, and Mrs. Rogers' grandson and granddaughter of Tennesse, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Franklin, were present for the occasion.

FROM NETTIE PEACOCK, SHANGHAI, CHINA

In October the Alumnae Association received a letter from Nettie L. Peacock, A.B., '02, in which she enclosed a generous check for the Loyalty Fund. She writes:

How I wish I could see those wonderful new buildings! I know that the students are enjoying them very much. I was so sorry that I had to leave before they were finished. Seeing Greater Wesleyan is a pleasure in store for me in 1934, my next furlough.

We have two new Wesleyan girls out this fall, Elizabeth Dent and Mamie Harmon. Miss Harmon is at McTyeire School in

KATHERINE CARNES, A.B., 1913

Wesleyan librarian on leave of absence for graduate study in library science at the University of Michigan with a fellowship from the Carnegie Corporation.

Shanghai and Miss Dent is in Soochow. Miss Harmon is expecting to stay only one year but she may become so fascinated with China that she will stay longer, who knows? It is good to have them here.

As you see, I have changed by address since I came back. I am now living in Shanghai and acting as treasurer. It was hard for me to leave Sungkiang. It had been my home for twenty-two years and I had learned to love the Chinese friends there. I miss them terribly. Some day I am hoping to get back into the evangelistic work but for the present it seems that my place is here. I have been here since April, and I have found plenty to fill my time. However, I do not want to spend all my time in the office and so I am going to have some Bible classes this fall. I am looking forward to starting them with great pleasure.

We are expecting Bishop and Mrs. Ainsworth in a few days. How good it will be to see them. Seeing friends from Macon is almost like having a little visit home. The hard part is seeing them start back; that almost makes me homesick.

DIPLOMA OF 1846 IN MUSEUM

The college was glad to receive the diploma of Minerva A. Spivey, dated July 16, 1846, from her daughter, Mrs. Claudia Pitts, of Montgomery, Ala. Dr. William Ellison was president of the college at that time. The diploma has been added to the collection of historical material in the Alumnae office.

IN MEMORIAM

BLANCHE (CHAPMAN) MABBETT, A.B., '07

Blanche (Chapman) Mabbett was at Wesleyan in May for the reunion of her class. Her death in the summer was a shock to her Wesleyan friends. She was secretary of the Wesleyan Club of Quitman. She is survived by her husband and three children, Blanche, aged twelve, Joseph, seven, and Mildred, five.

T. E. (MASSEY) FITZPATRICK, A.B., '67

Thulia Elizabeth (Massey) Fitzpatrick, A.B., '67, died October 25, and was buried in Jeffersonville, Ga. Dr. W. F. Quillian, president of Wesleyan, conducted the funeral services, and Mrs. Quillian was present.

T. E. Fitzpatrick was one of Wesleyan's most loyal alumnae. She wrote charmingly of her experiences in college for the Alumnae magazine of May, 1928. At commencement of that year she and her daughter, Inez (Fitzpatrick) Fernald of the class of 1893, were present for their class reunions, and her article "Speaking of the Reunion" appeared in the summer magazine.

FLORENCE (PATTERSON) YANCY, A.B., '71

Florence (Patterson) Yancy died at her home in Rome, Ga., in September, after a long illness. Mrs. Yancy was the class secretary of '71. She is survived by her husband, one son, four daughters, and several grandchildren.

PEARL PROUDFIT

Pearl Proudfit, daughter of Bessie (Napier) Proudfit, A.B., '76, died this summer after an illness of about two years. Her family and friends spent many months of alternating hope and anxiety during her long illness, and she was taken to several hospitals in the hope of her recovery. Pearl and her sister, Consuelo, both studied at Wesleyan.

GERTRUDE (TAYLOR) HILLES, EX '97

Gertrude (Taylor) Hilles died in a New York hospital in September, and was buried from the home of her sister, Elmyr (Taylor) Park, '95, in Macon. Besides her husband, William H. Hilles, she is survived by one daughter, Mary Battle Lowry, and one son, Thomas Scott Lowry III; also three brothers and three sisters.

When her class held its reunion in 1927, Gertrude (Taylor) Hilles sent a telegram of greeting from New York and expressed her regret at not being able to be present for the occasion.

COLLEGE GRADUATES WILL SHARE IN THE NEWEST EDUCATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS

A year ago at Vassar there was quietly held a small meeting with results so tremendous in potentiality that from it a new movement in Education promises to emerge.

Powerful forces were represented by the few men and women present: Education, 800,000 organized alumni of American Colleges, a wealthy corporation whose purpose is the advancement of knowledge.

The leaders in education were Presidents Neilson of Smith, Little of Michigan, Jessup of Iowa, Chase of North Carolina; President Keppel of the Carnegie Corporation and Mr. Cartwright of the American Association for Adult Education represented their organizations; the Aims and Policies Committee of the American Alumni Council spoke for the Alumni. The members of this committee are: Mr. Allis of Amherst, Mr. Morrill of Ohio State, Miss Sawyer of Vassar, Miss Snow of Smith, and Mr. Tyson of Columbia.

The Alumni leaders presented the problem to be considered: 800,000 alumni of 250 American colleges and universities are standing in well-marshalled, well-ordered ranks, impatiently marking time. Their eyes are turned toward their Alma Maters, some appealing, some accusingly, all expectantly. For these 800,000 college men and women are hungry for more of the learning proffered them for four scholastic years and are looking to their college for a continuation of her service. Since they have left her halls she either has neglected them entirely or called upon them only for financial support. They have responded to her appeals. Now they say in return: "Do you not owe us something? You gave us our taste for learning. We now desire more. Will you supply it?"

The educational leaders accepted the challenge presented by the alumni officials by agreeing that "An institution has a responsibility for continuing education after graduation."

But how to continue education is a problem not quickly solved. How a college or university can best share the time and wisdom of her faculty members as well as her equipment and facilities with her alumni while she continues functioning as usual for her undergraduates is a question that the colleges and universities must answer themselves individually and collectively. Its solution will affect the entire education of the future.

When the answer is ready, the alumni officials will serve as intermediaries between the alumni and the alma maters, using their excellent organizations as mediums for promoting adult education.

But the answer will not be solved in a moment. There will be experiments, trials and errors, failures, successes. It will be an evolutionary process hastened in its development by the concentrated effort of all.

After the Vassar conference, an initial step was taken by the Association of Adult Education in having Mr. Wilfred B. Shaw of the University of Michigan make a nation wide survey. As he visited the colleges to discover what each already had done to continue the education of her graduates, he stimulated interest in her further efforts also. This survey was made possible by the interest of the Carnegie Corporation whose help will speed this new development in education.

As a result many colleges this year are making new or renewed endeavors in promoting alumni education. It will be interesting to watch these developments and to participate in them.

Among these the plans of the University of Michigan promise to be the most elaborate. She is developing an "Alumni University" with Mr. W. B. Shaw as director and with a $24,000 appropriation for financing a two-year program.

Lafayette College in June successfully held the first session of her "Alumni College." For a week immediately following commencement her alumni stayed at the college and attended a series of lectures and round-table discussions upon Types of Drama, Current Movements in Education, Politics and the Individual, Old Testament Literature, Developments in Electrical Engineering during 1928, Chemistry, Economics, Football Coaching. The afternoons were devoted to outdoor recreation and the evenings to step singing and other informal social affairs.

WEDDINGS

Allman-Alford

Mary Allman, A.B., '26, to Angus Notley Alford, Jr., of Hartwell, August 27, at sunset at Eagle's Nest Camp, Brevard, N. C.

Anderson-Farrar

Salome Anderson, A.B., '28, to William Edmund Farrar of Macon, in October.

Baker-Peabody

Burma Baker, ex '32, to Elbert Peabody of Macon, in November.

Booth-Johnston

Almarita Booth, A.B., '26, to John Gibson Johnston.

Farr-Blanks

Laree Farr, A.B. '25, to Lawson M. Blanks of Milledgeville on October 30.

Gaston-Fish

Elizabeth Gaston, ex '28, to Walter Idings Fish of Atlanta, in April.

Heide-Lucas

Agnes Heide, ex '26, to Harry Kingman Lucas of Charlotte, N. C., July 1. They are at home at the Addison Apts., Charlotte.

Hilburn-Sanders

Lucile Hilburn, ex '24, to Thomas F. Sanders of Swainsboro, September 24.

Holder-Phares

Evelyn Holder, ex '25, to William L. Phares of Dallas, Texas, on May 4, 1929.

Jones-Pollack

Sara Jones, ex '30, to DeCoursey Pollack of Ft. Myers, Fla., in June.

MacDonnell-Farley

Margaret MacDonell, ex '28, to R. C. Farley of Coral Gables, Fla., during the summer.

McRae-Churchwell

Elizabeth McRae, A.B. '25, to Allen Franklin Churchwell, of Jacksonville, Fla., on October 15.

Malone-Harrison

Irene Malone, '17, to George Lowndes Harrison of Atlanta in the fall.

Poole-Corley

Elizabeth Poole, ex '29, to Guy Corley of Washington, Ga., in August.

Pratt-Bussey

Alleen Pratt, A.B. '28, to Harlan Bussey of Macon on October 27.

Rives-Carter

Mary Rives, A.B., '26, to Lenton Callaway Carter of Gainesville, in August.

Rogers-Somers

Mamie Louise Rogers, ex '24, to Charles Clement Somers of Burkeville, Va., in August.

Royal-Ogburn

Eleanor Royal, A.B., '29, to Joe Ogburn of Macon, August 17.

Spratling-Merritt

Pauline Spratling, ex '28, to B. F. Merritt, Jr., of Macon, in October.

Sweat-Martin

Minnie Mae Sweat, ex '26, to Ernest Martin of Haines City, Fla.

Wandell-Mennekin

Jessie Wandell, A.B., '25, to Carl Mennekin of Miami Beach, Fla.

White-McCreary

Genevieve Clark White, A.B., '14, to Robert James McCreary of Montgomery, Ala., October 2. They will live at 402 Cloverdale Rd., Montgomery.

Wooten-McClure

Henrietta Wooten, ex '30, to Charles Hubbard McClure of Albany, August 31.

Winter-Latimer

Ruth Winter, A.B., '29, to S. T. Latimer, of Geneva, Ala., in August.

ENGAGEMENTS

Jones-Hoover

Lucretia Jones, A.B., '27, to Henry Browne Hoover of Boston, Mass., in December.

Layfield-Pittman

Janie Layfield, ex '31, to H. W. Pittman, Jr., of Macon, the wedding to take place in the spring.

CLASS NOTES

HERE AND THERE

The following conservatory girls went to California with the Moyer's Tours for the summer school session: Doris Battle, Louise Upshaw, Margaret and Marjorie Bailey.

Margaret Boyd, ex '30, is teaching in the junior high school in Ft. Myers, Fla.

Vong Jung Chow (Mrs. Kok Ann Wee) is living in Peking, China, where her husband is a professor at Yenching University.

Sing San Chu, ex '30, has gone back to China. Her address is now 14 Nanling Li, Haining Rd., Shanghai.

Marguerite Gunn, ex '30, Rachel Johnson, ex '31, Louise Stakely and Lellita Stipe, ex '31, were at Wesleyan for a visit during the first few days of school. Marguerite is working with an Employment Agency in Atlanta, Rachel and Lellita are at Emory this year and Louise at Agnes Scott. All expect to be back at Wesleyan next year.

Elizabeth Hackett is teaching in Haddock, Ga.

Loo Mei How, ex '30, is living now at 293 Yu Yuen Rd., Shanghai, China.

Anna Loo, who was at Wesleyan Conservatory last year, is studying music at the Ithaca Conservatory this year. Anna has a Chinese friend, Adelaide Chen, who entered the freshman class at Wesleyan College this fall from New Jersey.

Sympathy is extended to Eugenia (Lowe) Spivey in the death of her husband on October 19. Dr. Spivey was a prominent young physician of Macon, and all Macon was shocked at his sudden death from a cerebral hemorrhage. Eugenia has one son, Oscar Spivey, Jr.

Ray McDaniel, ex '32, is teaching fifth grade in one of the schools in Thomaston.

Mary Claire Powell, ex '30, is working with an Employment Bureau in Atlanta.

Ruby (Ray) Thomas was elected regent of the Atlanta Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution for the coming year. An Atlanta paper said of her at the time: "Mrs. Thomas is one of the most outstanding members of the chapter and is well fitted to serve the chapter as regent. She has been a member of the state board since 1909, and was state auditor of the D. A. R. for more than six years. She was first a member of the Piedmont Continental Chapter and served as recording and corresponding secretary, treasurer, and first vice-regent. She was a charter member of the Atlanta Historical Society. She was a charter member of the Georgia Branch of the daughters of the American Colonists, and was state historian and auditor of that society.

Ethel Rogers, ex '31, christened the airplane, "City of Savannah," at a recent celebration held in Savannah.

Virginia Smith, ex '31, is studying this year at Peabody College.

Virginia Vaughn, conservatory, teaches music in Byromville.

Alice Warren is in training at Wesley Memorial Hospital in Atlanta.

Eula (Bell) Wood has been married five years and lives in Sumatra, Fla. She has a little son, G. P. Wood, Jr., age two years.

1862

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. O. A. Clark (Ella Anderson), 76 Arlington Place, Macon, Ga.

1865

Class Secretary: Mrs. A. W. Machen (Minnie Gresham), 217 Monument S., Baltimore, Md.

In an old letter from Tochie (MacDonell) Williams in the alumnae files, we find this sketch of the life of Claire de Graffenreid who shared first honor in the class of '65 with her friend, Minnie (Gresham) Machen:

"Miss DeGraffenreid, shortly after her father's death, assumed the support of the family and went to Washington in government work. She soon commanded attention as a research worker and the government sent her to Europe to study and report on labor conditions. This was not a frequent occurrence in those days, and her salary was reckoned the highest paid any woman. Her personality was gracious and social leaders in Washington counted it a favor to be able to include her in their social functions. Her's was the first voice in the South raised against employment of children in textile mills, and her booklet against child labor, compiled with Mr. Willoughby, was the first written protest. It was quoted much in the early days by the National Child Labor Committee, and I have seen nothing more illuminating in all the output of this organization. In the light of the fact that it was a Georgia woman, one of the best born, that began the agitation of protecting children from gainful pursuits which eventuated in the proposed twentieth amendment the vote of the Georgia Legislature is curious."

1870

Class Secretary: Alice Baxter, 826 Peachtree St., N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

1871

1873

Class Secretary: Mrs. Thomas Peters (Kate Ross), 2750 Riverside Ave., Jacksonville, Fla.

1874

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. F. Burden (Minnie Bass), Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

1875

Class Secretary: Mrs. L. J. Bradley (Lilly Johnson), Cartersville, Ga.

1876

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. G. Solomon (Lillian Roberts), 218 Forsyth St., Macon, Ga.

1877

Bessie (Rogers) Varnedoe of Valdosta has been commissioned to paint an oil picture of Governor L. G. Hardman, to be hung in the governor's gallery in the state capitol. Mrs. Varnedoe, the widow of the late Major James O. Varnedoe, is an artist of unusual talent. This will be the second portrait of a Georgia governor to be placed in the gallery bearing her name, that of General John B. Gordon having been painted by Mrs. Varnedoe. She is a sister of Mr. Rock Rogers of Macon, trustee of Wesleyan, and of Martha Rogers, class secretary of '84.

1878

Class Secretary: Mrs. Washington Dessau (Fannie Gilmer), 301 Hines Terrace, Macon, Ga.

1879

Class Secretary: Mrs. Cuyler King (Henrietta Nisbet), 320 College St., Macon, Ga.

1880

Class Secretary: Mrs. Alfred Truitt (Ida Price), 1027 Columbia Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

1881

Class Secretaries: Mrs. W. B. Willingham (Emma Davis), 63 Ansley Drive, Atlanta, Ga.

1882

1883

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. D. Lamar (Dorothy Blount), Georgia Ave., Macon, Ga.

Dollie (Blount) Lamar, director for the state of Georgia of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation which proposes to restore and maintain the home of the Confederate general, recently returned from a meeting of the board of directors of the foundation, held at the birthplace of Lee, Stratford on the Potomac. She declared:

"It will be a source of great pleasure to all lovers of the name of Lee to know of the recent action of the Georgia U. D. C. in passing a resolution endorsing the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation. This noble enterprise was inspired by Sidney Lanier's resolution offered in 1870, and by a letter from General Lee in 1861 in which he expressed a longing to buy back his beloved Stratford."

After the business meeting was concluded, a number of the directors were officially entertained at Mt. Vernon, seeing the wonderful work done by the Mt. Vernon association for that lovely and revered spot which gave to the Stratford board new courage and fresh inspiration to go forward.

The directors of the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation hold office for life. With her characteristic enthusiasm and love of worth-while things, Mrs. Lamar is already heart and soul in this new work for the U. D. C. and for the South.

1884

Class Secretary: Mattie Rogers, 75 College St., Macon, Ga.

Martha Rogers has returned to Macon after having spent several months in Savannah.

1885

Class Secretary: Mrs. Bessie F. Artope (Bessie Goodwyn), 317 Orange St., Macon, Ga.

The attractive daughter of Bella (Abraham) Binswanger, Gladys, was married on October 20 to Maurice Weslow of Anderson, Indiana.

Ilah (Dunlap) Little and Mr. Little visited Bad Nauheim, Carlsbad and Villa Este before going to Paris to spend the month of September at the Hotel Ritz.

Marian (Luce) Chenery and Dr. Chenery of Boston spent June and July motoring through Spain and Southern France, and later spent some time in Bucharest, in Sofia and in Belgrade. In Berlin they had as their guests Dr. Daniel L. Marsh, president of Boston University, and Mrs. Marsh.

1886

Class Secretary: M. Kate Neal, 1364 Emory Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

We extend sympathy to Anne (Allen) Johnston in the loss of her brother, M. C. Allen, a distinguished Georgia educator who passed away in June.

Can anyone give the class secretary any information about Annie Baird?

Laura (Brown) Miller wrote from her home in New York that she could not come to our class reunion, but she was surely coming to the dedication of our Alumnae Building, and she hoped she would not have to use long distance glasses.

After a long search, we have located Jimmie Finch who is Mrs. Daniel Boone, and lives with her son, Dr. Wood, a prominent physician of Pine Castle, Florida.

Mamie (Holtzclaw) Robeson, Annie (Hyer) Coleman, Lura Simmons, and Kate Neal met together at Mrs. Stephens' enthusiastic Atlanta Alumnae reception at Druid Hills Club given for the girls attending Wesleyan this fall.

We extend sympathy to Annie (Hyer) Coleman in the loss of her brother, Dr. Robert Stewart Hyer of Dallas, Texas. He was the founder of the Southern Methodist University of Texas.

Lizzie (Leonard) Hightower, after the class reunion, joined friends in Atlanta and spent the summer traveling over Europe.

Alice (Miller) Phillips of Orlando, Fla., writes that she drives her own car and has a jolly good time all the time, especially when with her six grandchildren.

Ida Lee (Wilbourne) Ray of Birmingham, Ala., has enjoyed a trip around the world, and is now spending her time in Germany and in Paris, France.

1887

Class Secretary: Mrs. E. A. Douglass (Jennie Martin), Sanford, Fla.

1888

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. F. Stone (Ida Lowrey), Blakely, Ga.

Nan (Carmichael) Beeland's son, Charles, with Paramount News, enjoys the pleasure and distinction of being the only news camera man to fly with Lindbergh up to date. He was with "the Colonel" and his bride on the trip to establish the Central American air-mail service, and thinks them very human and very modest. He adds that the little bride has a charming personality, and is very pretty when she smiles.

On the first day out lunch was served while flying over the ocean, and consisted of fried chicken, potato salad, apple pie (of course!) cheese and coffee—and the chicken was hot! He writes interestingly of their three days' stay on the islands of Cuba, Haiti and Porto Rico. While on their way to pay a call on the President of the Republic of Haiti, the party saw the natives preparing their noonday meal on the sidewalk. A place would be wiped off, a fire made, bread made up, cooked and eaten right there on the walk. No occasion for a nervous breakdown from such housekeeping as that!

Among the thirty nominations for Georgia postmasters sent to the Senate by President Hoover on September 10th, we find the name of our classmate, Louise (Morse) Riddle, Davisboro, Ga.

1889

Class Secretary: Mrs. George Watson (Annie Lou Laney), 319 Duncan Ave., Macon, Ga.

Allie (Cleghorn) Pitner (Mrs. J. R.) is recovering from a recent illness at her home in Summerville, Ga.

Katherine (Watson) Bartlett, daughter of Annie Lou (Laney) Watson of 1889, studied music at the Wesleyan Conservatory in 1925. She was pianist at Centenary Methodist Church at the time. In 1926 she married and has been living in Denver, Colorado, since. In September she visited her mother on Duncan avenue, bringing her baby daughter, Barbara Ann, for the Georgia relatives to see.

1890

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. P. Coleman (Ida Mangham), Massee Apts., Macon, Ga.

Well, here we start on our 93rd year in the life of Wesleyan, but only 39 since this class was graduated.

It is a paradox that as we grow older, Wesleyan grows younger. A visit to Greater Wesleyan is a rejuvenating and inspiring experience, for one can feel progress, efficiency, and success in the atmosphere.

In making up your budget for the year, do not forget the Loyalty Fund. If every member of a class will contribute something, that class will have the distinction of being a Banner Class. Let's see what we can do.

Announcements have been received of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Faveot of New Orleans. Richmond Faveot is a son of the late Mamie (Richmond Faveot).

Mamie (Hatcher) Grady will return soon from an interesting trip abroad which included the North Cape, Russia and France.

Great interest is being shown in Phi Mu Alumnae, Alpha Chapter. The congenial group of women who from this Chapter will hold meetings during the winter for the purpose of furthering Phi Mu work and for the pleasure of enjoying and upholding the bonds of Phi Mu.

On all sides one hears appreciation of Wesleyan Beauty Parlor at the Conservatory. Just see for yourself.

What an exquisite poem is "Values," by Mary Fiske in the "Wesleyan," student magazine. Did you read it?

I. M. C., Class Secretary.

1891

1892

Class Secretary: Mrs. C. C. Jarrell (Margaret Moore), 1079 Oxford Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

Gertrude (Roberts) Anderson's son, Charlie, is a member of the faculty at the University of Georgia.

The friends of Bertha (Willingham) Seibels will be interested to learn of the marriage of her only daughter, Mary Ross Seibels, to George Rivers Pinckney Walker at Trinity Church, Columbia, S. C., in October. Calder Seibels, brother of the bride, was one of the groomsmen in the wedding. After the beautiful wedding ceremony the bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home on Richland Street, Columbia.

The bride is a graduate of Holton Arms at Washington, D. C., and she has also taken special work at the University of South Carolina. Following her graduation she spent a summer in Europe and since then has traveled extensively. She is a member of the Junior League and of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority. Through her mother, she is related to an old and prominent Georgia family, and on her paternal side she belongs to the fourth generation to live in the handsome old Seibels home. She is a lovely blonde and one of the most charming members of Columbia's younger society set.

Mr. Walker is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harford Pinckney Walker of Charleston. He is descended from some of Charleston's oldest families and through his mother, who was Jeanne Preston Frost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frost, his is also allied with the Prestons, Hamptons, and other distinguished families in this part of the state. Mr. Walker attended the Kent Preparatory School and also the University of Virginia, and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. He is now living in Columbia where he is in the insurance business.

1893

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. O. Jones (Louise Evans), Newnan, Ga.

Loula (Evans) Jones' son, Phillip, was married in October to Mary Hughes of Decatur. The bride attended Agnes Scott College and took a series of courses in art at High Museum of Art. Mr. Jones attended Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, where he made an enviable record. He received the A.B. degree at V. M. I. and later a C.E. degree at Cornell University. While at Cornell he was a member of the A. T. O. fraternity. He is now in the automobile business in Newnan.

Friends of Lavinia (Hodgkins) Boylston (Mrs. E. H.) will be interested in the marriage of her daughter, Lavinia, to Neal Sumrall of Jackson, Miss., which will be on November 12. The wedding will take place at the home of Maybelle (Jones) Dewey and will be attended by members of the family and a few intimate friends. The friendship between the Boylstons and Deweys began in Macon in those days after the war between the States, when their grandmothers, Mrs. Nathan Hodgkins and Mrs. George Griffin were intimate friends.

Lavinia (Hodgkins) Boylston writes to her class secretary: "I am now busy getting my only daughter ready to be married in the fall. I am so sorry I could not be present at our last class reunion. I expected to be, but was taken ill a few days before and could not. I was terribly disappointed for I wanted to meet the old girls again. I am deeply interested in Wesleyan and her welfare."

Hattie (Murphey) Crawley has just directed a substantial fund in her budget to the Loyalty Fund, and writes to her class secretary: "I wanted you to know that your letter did it."

1894

Class Secretary: Mrs. Lucy K. Johnson (Lucy Keen), Wesleyan Conservatory, Macon, Ga.

Dear Classmates:

After the summer is over, it is good to be at work again at the dear old college.

Alice Allen writes from Paris, where she is temporarily making her home, leaving China for the first time in sixteen years.

It is interesting, girls, to think of Marian (Bonnell) Clifton, our gifted singer, having as a hobby the raising of strawberries for the market. Marian sent us a generous check for the Loyalty Fund, and she made it herself.

Nannette (Carter) Smith has an attractive daughter, Dorothy, who is studying at Breneau College.

Our hearts are sad with you, Florence Hamilton. The loss of Judge Crum is our sorrow, and we send you our love and sympathy.

I must tell you that I have a new daughter. My son, Douglas, married his life-long friend, Dorothy Mitchell of Gainesville this summer. They are living now on Long Island.

It was good to see Mamie (Medlock) Chapman in September. How happy she must be to see her daughter, Margaret, holding down the position as librarian in that wonderful Candler Memorial Library while Miss Carnes is away.

Marilu (Napier) Coney is making her home in Macon at present. It is a joy to see her again.

We feel sure that Hattie (Zettler) Dent is lonely without her lovely daughter, Elizabeth, who has left for the mission field. How her heart must rejoice in presenting to the cause of foreign missions so wonderful a gift!

Think of this! We have seen Mrs. Burks recently! She is the same gentle, lovely, gracious, kind Mrs. Burks.

We wish that together we could hear the old bell ring, could sit together in the old chapel, listen to the Sunday night sermon in the study hall, walk around the front porch on Sunday evening for just fifteen minutes, have our picture made, and even walk with Professor Hinton to the cemetery.

I am expecting a letter from every one of you telling me all the news. By the way, Nina (Fish) McClesky is a grandmother! Don't you know she is proud!

Here's to you, lovers of Wesleyan of the class of '94!

Lucy (Keen) Johnson, Class Sec'y.

Lucy (Keen) Johnson was recently elected president of the Macon Woman's Christian Temperance Union, succeeding Leila (Hart) Warlick, A.B. '95, who has been president for six years. Mrs. Johnson has been actively connected with this organization since coming to Macon a number of years ago. Before that time she was a member of the Gainesville W. C. T. U.

1895

Class Secretary: Mrs. Harry Ainsworth (Marian Hayes), Thomasville, Ga.

The new secretary of the class of '95 Marion (Hays) Ainsworth, began in September to bring the scattered members of her class together by letters. She sent in class notes for this magazine with this message for '95:

Greetings to the class of '95! Will the old girls of '95 please let me have news from them? Not only to make our class notes fuller and more interesting but that we may be drawn together again in spirit.

Ruth (Mitchell) Cooper visited her sister, Daisy (Mitchell) Winter recently in Thomasville. Ruth lives in Miami, and both Ruth and Daisy are devoted "young" grandmothers.

Florence (Hand) Hinman of Atlanta has been in Europe this summer. Her distinguished husband, Dr. T. P. Hinman, held a dental clinic in London.

Julia (Pierce) Forbes is in Jacksonville, Fla., keeping house for her brother whose wife has been ill for some time. Julia lost her husband, a merchant in Darien, Ga., several years ago. She has one son, Foster, and a daughter, Elizabeth, who graduated from high school two years ago.

Nellie (Lachlison) Thomson writes:

"I was asked recently what I valued most during my years at Wesleyan, and I answered unhesitatingly,—'friends!'"

"I still have my old diamond-shaped sorority pin and as I move from place to place in South Georgia as a Methodist minister's wife, I frequently have some woman—often a member of some other church—come up to me and say, 'I thought your face was familiar. Who were you when we were together at Wesleyan?' And at once an old friendship is renewed that gives me the greatest pleasure, for from that time on, I am never the minister's wife to her, but just 'Nellie Lachlison, whom I knew at college.'

"There are many advantages at Greater Wesleyan that we of 1895 didn't have and many privileges which we were denied, but the friendships were strong and true and have lasted throughout the years."

Nellie and minister, presiding elder of the Americus District, and one fourteen-year-old son, Jim, live now in a twelve-room parsonage in Dawson, Ga.

1896

Class Secretary: Mrs. Phil Lanier (Anna Wooten), West Point, Ga.

1897

Class Secretary: Mrs. S. T. Coleman (Edith Stetson), 317 College St., Macon, Ga.

The friends of Ella (Harper) Erwin are welcoming her back to Macon. She is living now at the Massee Apartment, where she is hostess.

Sympathy is extended to Mary (Riley) Henry in the death of her husband, Robert W. Henry in July. Mrs. Henry has two sons, R. M. and John L. Henry.

1898

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. G. Stephens (Lucy Evans), 615 Linwood Ave., Atlanta, Ga.

A recent Wesleyan visitor was Ada Heath Montgomery, of Charlotte, N. C., attractive daughter of Ada (Heath) Montgomery of the class of 1898. She was in Macon as an attendant in the Anderson-Farrar wedding, and was the guest of Edith (Stetson) Coleman. She studied at St. Mary's College in Raleigh. Ada (Heath) Montgomery has one son, who is now in the medical school of the University of Pennsylvania. Lena (Heath) Jones, of the class of 1896, her sister, has four daughters, Mary Heath, of Concord, N. C.; Rebecca, at Converse College, and Lena and Elizabeth, still in high school.

Susie (Stevens) Janes' charming daughter, Rosalind, was married during the summer to Charles H. Williams.

1899

1900

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. E. Hays (Louise Frederick), Montezuma, Ga.

Geraldine (Dessau) Wheeler was called to New Jersey during the summer to take charge of the Lucky Seven Tavern in Bloomfield, a tea room operated by Sara Hall of the class of 1908, while the latter was in Europe. To say that she was successful is putting it mildly, for The Newark Evening News devoted four columns to a story about the "fairy artistry of this cake-maker from the South who paints fragile things in icing and weaves stories through the medium of batter and spoon." Mrs. Wheeler has for a long time conducted a cake-making business in Macon and is noted for her cakes and icings.

Annie (Kimbrough) Small recently gave a series of lectures on interior decorating, sponsored by the Macon Woman's Club.

Corra (Weston) Wilcox lives at Hilton Head, S. C., on an island on the coast.

1901

Class Secretary: Mrs. C. E. Bothwell (Mary Lovejoy), 149 S. McDonough St., Decatur, Ga.

Martha (Nelson) Christian is a matron in Miller S. Bell Annex at G. S. C. W., Milledgeville, Ga.

Dorothy (Rogers) Tilly of Atlanta put on a most interesting pageant of the sixty years progress of the negro race with Paine College as an exponent of that development, at Wesley Memorial Church, September 13. The auditorium was filled with interested spectators and friends. The general conference of 1882 at Nashville, Tenn., which set up Paine College was depicted. Judge H. Warner Hill, associate justice of the State Supreme Court, acted the part of the Southern Methodist Bishop, while W. A. Bell, a prominent negro real estate man and secretary of the board of trustees of Paine College acted the part of Bishop Holsey, who came asking assistance in the education of their negro preachers and leaders.

1902

Class Secretary: Mrs. Flournoy (Mattie Hatcher), 1608 Wildwood Circle, Columbus, Ga.

Sympathy is extended to Kate (Miller) Calhoun of Columbus in the death of her mother, Mrs. A. L. Miller, wife of a former mayor of Macon, recently.

Pauline Odum fills a most important position at Emory as secretary to the Vice-President, Dr. Theodore Jack, and she does it with most remarkable ability.

Hattie (Wimberly) Hudson and her beautiful daughter, Margaret, came home to Georgia from Seattle in August. Margaret is a student at the University of Washington this year.

1903

Class Secretary: Lucy Lester, Florida State College for Women, Tallahassee, Fla.

Lillie (Christie) Hollingsworth lives in Dawson, Ga. She has six children, Virginia, Ella May, John Christie, Marjorie, Ruth, and Edgar.

1904

Class Secretary: Mrs. T. L. Ross (Helen Roberts), 629 Orange St., Macon, Ga.

Mary Kendrick took a course in expression at Wesleyan. She is living a beautiful and unselfish life in Dawson with an invalid mother.

1905

Class Secretary: Margie Burks, West Tennessee State Teachers' College, Memphis, Tenn.

Sympathy is extended to Eloise Moon, '05, and to Allene Moon, '00, in the death of their mother recently.

1906

Class Secretary: Mrs. T. J. Stewart (Octavia Burden), Vineville Ave., Macon, Ga.

Marilu (Beckham) Wing of Atlanta and Mary (Loehr) Davis of Houston, Texas, were visitors at the college in August. Mary (Loehr) Davis was spending the summer in Alabama and Georgia, and made a special trip to Macon to see her Alma Mater. She says that she finds only one thing lacking on the new campus—trees. She proposes that individuals or classes plant trees as memorials to friends or classmates, and is planning to have a tree placed on the campus in memory of her grandmother, Mary Houston Allen, A. B., '58.

Estelle (Stevens) Mason and her daughter, Emtelle, are traveling around the world. They will be away until Christmas. They left Macon with Bishop and Mrs. Ainsworth when they returned to the Orient in August. Dr. Holmes Mason, at a recent meeting of the American College of Dentists held in connection with the American Dental Association in Washington, D. C., was elected to have the fellowship degree conferred upon him, which is the highest honor that can be obtained in the dental profession. Dr. Mason is a former president of the Rotary Club of Macon. He is the only Macon dentist to receive this honor except Dr. H. H. Johnson, now retired.

1907

Class Secretary: Mrs. Nelson Mallary (Willie Erminger), 117 Callaway St., Macon, Ga.

Dear Girls:

A letter from Elizabeth Moseley, asking me the details of Blanche Chapman's death, expressed the sorrow and interest that I know each of you feel.

Blanche had been sick since last fall and had an operation in Atlanta November 6, 1928. But she was at our reunion in May. The doctors had just given her hope that she would be better.

With us she was so bright and attractive that it is almost impossible to realize that she is gone.

During the summer, she grew steadily worse and died on September 13.

Her husband, Henry Mabbett, and their three children are left. The children are Blanche, twelve years old; Joe, seven; and Mildred, five.

If any of you wish to write them to express something of your love and admiration for Blanche, their address is Quitman, Georgia.

Lovingly,

Willie N. E. Mallory.

Mattie (Chappell) Lawton of New Orleans, was the guest of her parents in Macon in October.

1908

Class Secretary: Mrs. Malcolm H. Dewey (Maybelle Jones), 1071 E. Clifton Rd., Atlanta, Ga.

Louise (Atkinson) Hardaway now lives in Lenoir, N. C., where her husband is pastor of the Baptist Church.

Alma Fennell is a most successful teacher of music in Gainesville, Fla. Her address is 905 E. Main St. North.

Annie (Kirkland) Morris lives at 144 Third Ave. South, St. Petersburg, Fla. She has three daughters she is getting ready for Wesleyan.

Jessie Mikell is now connected with the Health Department of the city of Birmingham. Her title is "Field Consultant and Assistant Director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene and Public Health Nursing." Her address is 1012 Crescent Ave. South, Birmingham, Ala.

Olivia Rambo has left the field of interior decorating and is now with Miss E. Wanda Baker, Wholesale Art and Gift Wares. Her address is 225 Fifth Ave., New York.

Myrtle (Smith) Olliff lives in Statesboro. She has four children, a daughter 15, and three up and coming young sons.

1909

Class Secretary: Mrs. W. C. Cantrell (Estelle Manning), Carrollton, Ga.

1910

Class Secretary: Leonora Smith, Florida State Woman's College, Tallahassee, Fla.

Florrie Harwell is teaching in Logan College, Russellville, Ky., this year.

1911

Class Secretary: Mrs. F. C. Reese (Nancy Call Bryan), San Marco, South Jacksonville, Fla.

Sympathy is extended to Floy (Oliver) Jeter in the death of her husband, P. H. Jeter, in August. Mr. Jeter had been in failing health for some time following a major operation. He died at the home of his mother in Greensboro, N. C., having left Atlanta under the doctor's orders. Floy has one little girl, Anne Jeter, aged twelve.

1912

Class Secretary: Jennie Loyall, Wesleyan College, Rivoli, Macon, Ga.

Lillian (Nutting) Branam and her husband and two sons, Arthur, Jr., and William, of Sanford, Fla., were the guests recently of Lillian's mother, Mrs. William Nutting of Macon.

Camilla (Pharr) Barnett has recently moved from Florida to Tignall, where she is teaching in the public schools.

Lucille Sasser has opened a music studio in Comer, Ga., at the home of Mrs. C. L. Adair. She has taught at the South Georgia A. and M. School in Tifton, at Whitworth College in Mississippi, and at Martin College in Tennessee.

1913

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. J. Taylor (Elizabeth Baker), 1985 Ponce de Leon Ave., N. E., Atlanta, Ga.

Emily (Heath) McMurria of Atlanta was the guest recently of Cornelia (Adams) Heath at her home on Vineville Avenue.

Virginia (Fraser) Pratt had a delightful visit to her college friends in Macon and Columbus during the summer. She has charge of the department of English and Journalism at Woodberry Hall in Atlanta for next year, and will be a resident member of the faculty.

Frances (Godfrey) Candler and Mr. Candler gave a most delightful barbecue on October 23rd at their home in Covington, in honor of the seventieth birthday of their mother, Mrs. Warren A. Candler.

Martha (White) Watson is living at 202 Coleman Ave., Macon. She is working with the Security Loan and Abstract Company. Her ten-year-old daughter, according to her grandmother, Annie Lou (Laney) Watson of '89, is expected to make a record at Wesleyan some day.

1914

Class Secretary: Gladys Sheppard, Elberton, Ga.

1915

(Carolyn Knight), 1913 S. W. 11th St., Miami, Fla.

Mozelle Tumlin is studying this year at Scarritt College in Nashville.

1916

Class Secretary: Mrs. Jesse W. Davis (Merlyn Hiley), Vineville Court Apt., Macon, Ga.

Verna (French) Shaffer has moved from York, Ala., to 1109 Greensboro Ave., Tuscaloosa, Ala.

1917

Class Secretary: Georgia Baker, Public Library, Main Branch, Toledo, Ohio.

Miriam Rogers is at Scarritt College this year working on her master's degree in religious education. Miriam plans to go into home mission work.

1918

Class Secretary: Mrs. J. L. Murphy (Marian Cook), 726 Ocean Ave., Brookline, N. Y.

Andromache P. T. (Bailey) Komlosy is living now at 38 Glenwood St., Malden, Mass. She writes: "A new son, Frederick Anton, Jr., arrived on June 20 at Malden. He went to Maine when two months old with his father and mother, grandmother Bailey and sister, Martha, age six.

Louise (King) Horton is living now at 2834 Napoleon Ave., New Orleans, La. She and her husband motored down about the middle of June, having a delightful drive along the coast from Mobile with many beautiful and interesting stops at Biloxi, Gulfport, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, etc. They have found New Orleans a most charming and fascinating place with enough antiques and interesting historical spots and unique blended nationalities to interest the most exacting for many days.

Mitta (Pharr) Fields lives now in Leesburg, Fla.

Dr. Ernest Corn was honored with a fellowship at the annual meeting of the American College of Surgeons in Chicago in October. Pauline (Pierce) Corn went to Chicago with Dr. Corn to attend the annual meeting to receive the honors.

Kathleen (Rogers) Pape has a new daughter, born October 13. She will be called Kathleen Rogers.

1919

Class Secretary: Mrs. A. L. Gilmore (Rosaline Jenkins), c/o Galloway Memorial Church, Jackson, Miss.

Gladys (Butner) Jennings of Powder Springs boasts a second son, born March 19. William, her first, was three in April.

Lucile Fincher is teaching her third year at Jasper, Ga. She and one other teacher conducted an accredited private summer school there this summer.

Sarah (Forbes) Morgan of Vienna says "the farm is the place to raise four boys, the oldest seven years and the youngest six months. Does she hold the class record for quantity of offspring?"

Lucile (Ham) George writes from her new home in Clifton Heights, Penn.: "An engineer's family has made another move, but we will probably be here in Philadelphia for quite a few years. It is still a Quaker city in many ways. My young son of two and one-half has had one finger on the "Liberty Bell."

Our secretary, Rosaline (Jenkins) Gilmore and family have moved to Jackson, Miss., where Mr. Gilmore is Director of Religious Education at the Galloway Memorial Church. He received his M.A. in religious education at Emory in June. We're sorry Rosaline is out of Georgia, but let's send her all the news we even think so she'll feel at home.

Charlotte McCants and Sara Mobley have been found. (Last issue reported them lost, strayed or stolen.) Charlotte is teaching in her home town, Winder. Sarah claims Covington as her home, but teaches in Tarboro, N. C. She enjoyed a trip in Europe in the summer of 1928.

Bessie (Tappan) Farris, Gladys (Butner) Jennings, Paula Snelling, Marjorie White and ye scribe still thrill over our Round Robin letter, though we send it less frequently than we did the first few years.

Mamie Lou (Thomas) Tippins still lives in Havana. She has two boys. Wouldn't you like to see that grin again when somebody mentioned, "Lucious!"

What do you mothers think of having a roster of our children? We may be too modest concerning ourselves, but we will elaborate and wax eloquent about our prodigies. Let's send Rosaline their names and ages and have them appear in the magazine. Don't you think it would be interesting? At our next reunion we can ask intelligently about Susie and Sonny.

Mary Frank (McClure) Chandler, '19.

1920

Class Secretary: Mrs. Mark Ethridge (Willie Snow), Washington Ave., Macon, Ga.

Lois (Lee) Gibbs has a little son, Jack Lee Gibbs, ten months old.

1921

Class Secretary: Mrs. Eugene Torrance (Mary Fagan), 532 E. 37th St., Savannah, Ga.

Mary (Fagan) Torrance attended the School of Speech at Northwestern this summer. Jimmie (Hester) Bailey was with her. Two other Wesleyan girls there were Louise Ballard, who is working on her Ph.D. degree and Sue Maxwell, who was awarded the master's degree. These two girls have made unusually high grades in the school of liberal arts and are creating a splendid reputation for Wesleyan. These were the only students from Georgia. (Mary is director of her own "School of Speech" in Savannah.)

Margaret (Jordan) Sizer's address is 88 North Walnut St., East Orange, N. J.

Mamie (Marchman) Griffin lives in Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas, where her husband is associated with the Rowland Clinic as eye, ear, nose and throat specialist. She writes: Annie (Tanner) Haley lives here. Her husband is superintendent of the city schools and she has a beautiful little girl two years old."

Clyde Smith is studying at the Carnegie Library School in Atlanta.

Edna Tyson is on a leave of absence from her work in the domestic science department at Elizabeth, N. J., and is spending some time at home with her parents in Moultrie.

Mabel (Woodward) Douglas attended the National Education Association Meet which was held in Atlanta in June. Two other members of her class, Anne (Tanner) Haley and Catharine Rourk were there, too. They were disappointed that Mabel did not bring her husband. Anne looked fine, and little Mary Ann, two years old, was an important member of the convention. Mr. Haley is superintendent of schools in Hot Springs, Ark.

1922

Class Secretary: Mrs. Ed. Flanders (Bruce Cleckler), 784 Hillyer Ave., Macon, Ga.

Margaret (Bozeman) Wilson visited Wesleyan in October. She was at home for a month with her family and her husband's family. They live in Denver, Colo., for her husband's health, and have one little son, "Tomnie," three-and-a-half years old.

Marguerite O'Sheal is teaching in Bamberg, S. C.

Elizabeth Paine had a serious illness last May and had to resign her work as elementary superintendent for the North Georgia Sunday School board. She must take treatment and rest for a year to regain her health.

Annie Lucy Vaughn has resigned her position as superintendent of the Preston Consolidated School to become economics agent of Houston County. She has been superintendent of the Preston school for the past six years, the early infancy of the present model school, and has been unusually successful in developing an accredited school, in a position generally held by a man.

1923

Class Secretary: Mrs. R. A. Patterson (Ruth Sears), Cuthbert, Ga.

1924

Class Secretary: Mary Thomas Maxwell, Dublin, Ga.

Louise Ballard studied at the University of Chicago the past summer.

Ailene Corry is studying library science at Columbia University this year.

Alma Crowder is teaching in the grammar school department of Gordon Institute in Barnesville.

Olive Dent (Manget) Bramblett has a son, born in August.

Elizabeth (Proctor) Thompson has a baby girl.

Rosalie Radford is teaching this year in Covington, Ga.

Lucia (Sammons) Greene visited the new college in September. Lucia has a little girl, also named "Lucia" about five months old, who will come to Wesleyan some day.

Margaret (Vincent) Smith's address is 3315 R Street N. W., Washington, D. C. She married Lieut.-Com. Smith at Shanghai in 1927. He now has a desk in the office of the Judge Advocate General, U. S. N., but he will be sent elsewhere probably in 1930. Margaret likes Washington, but enjoys traveling over the world. She keeps fit with tennis and golf, and is a member of the National Committee for censoring books to be put into Braille for the blind.

Grace Woodward visited the new college for the first time in September. Grace is in Vienna this year, and is doing some feature writing on the side.

Frances Wootten's new address is 730 Sycamore St., Decatur, Ga. She is teaching again in the high school there.

1925

Class Secretary: Celeste Copelan, Greensboro, Ga.

Celia (Bozeman) Moore has a son born during the summer.

Irving Ellis, Jr., is the name of the seven-pound son born to Lulawill (Brown) Ellis, September 26.

Jeffie (Fincher) Fambro has a new daughter.

Loulie (Forrester) Burns and her husband are living now in Knoxville, Tenn. She says she has had lots of fun furnishing her new apartment and learning to cook. She misses the meetings of the club of '25 and '27.

Zula Pierce is delighted with her new position as physical education director of the Plant High School in Tampa, Fla. Her address is 1821 Richardson Place, Tampa, Fla. Zula spent the summer at girl scout camps outside of Macon and Cloudland, Ga.

Mary K. Read spent the month of October in New York City after a summer at Eagle's Nest Camp in Brevard, N. C., where Mary Allman's wedding took place. She plans to come by Wesleyan for a visit soon. Don't Mary's "toothpick drawings" with the story on page 154 carry you back to your school days and Mary's clever drawings in the annual?

1926

Class Secretary: Mrs. A. E. McIntosh (Dorothy Thomas), 910 Seward Ave., Apt. 308, Detroit, Mich.

Mary (Allman) Alford had a most unusual wedding at Eagle's Nest Camp in Brevard, N. C. The camp lodge was the setting for the wedding with goldenrod and sourwood in native pottery vases for decorations around an arch of trees. The campers attended the ceremony in formal uniform, white with cadet blue ties. Just before the service the camp bugler played the call to church.

Mary has been a popular councillor at the camp for two years. She was toastmistress at the closing banquet just before her wedding.

Maude Alice Barnum is teaching violin in her home, Richland, Ga., this year.

Miriam (Bullard) King, ex '26, lives in Griffin and has two little girls.

Mamie Harmon sailed in August for Shanghai, China, where she will be a contract teacher in McTyiere School this year. Mamie went over on the Empress of Asia with Bishop and Mrs. Ainsworth when they returned to their work in the Orient.

Virginia McJenkin is teaching at R. L. Hope grammar school in Atlanta.

Mildred McLain is teaching English in Monroe this year.

Elizabeth Stephenson is teaching in Winterhaven, Fla., this year.

Vernice (Stone) Craig's address is 436 Washington Ave., Macon, Ga.

Katherine Walker is assistant librarian at the Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee. She finished her library training at the Carnegie Library School in Atlanta last year.

1927

Class Secretary: Lucretia Jones, 1306 Massachusetts Ave., Cambridge, Mass.

Elizabeth Coates writes: "Just a word of news before I leave for St. Petersburg, where I will teach this winter. Katherine Armstrong and I are going to St. Petersburg together, she in grammar school and I teaching English in the Senior High School. We shall live together.

"The last of August I was in New York. Going up on the boat from Savannah I saw Ellen Hunt, '24, and Mamie Jones, '27. We had a fine time together. They were on the way to New York to find jobs and spend the winter.

"In New York, I had lunch with Dot McKay, who is the most enthusiastic soul I ever saw. She carried us to the most fascinating little tea room. (I say "us," for what was my surprise to see Emily Neel, just back from Europe. Emily was filled to the brim with news from Paris, Italy, the Sorbonne, and the Chateaux."

Elizabeth Dent sailed in September for the mission school in Soochow, China, where she will teach this year.

Evelyn Gibson is teaching English in Cartersville, Ga.

Mildred Gower is working with an insurance firm in Atlanta.

Lucretia Jones will be married in December to Henry Browne Hoover of Boston, Mass. Mr. Hoover is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hoover of Boise, Idaho. He is an honor graduate of the University of Washington and of the Harvard School of Architecture. On receiving his degree as Master of Architecture from Harvard in 1926, he was awarded the Nelson Robinson traveling fellowship which carried with it a year of travel and study in Europe. In 1927 he was awarded the Sheldon traveling fellowship, which carried with it another year in Europe. While at Harvard he won the Eugene Dodd medal for free-hand drawing and won various intercollegiate competitions in drawing.

Sara Louise Jordan completed her work for the master's degree in public health during the summer, and is working this year in Birmingham, Michigan, about twenty miles northwest of Detroit. She gives Wassermann and Rahn tests, examinations for diphtheria, typhoid, tuberculosis, and also milk and water analyses. She went to her new position in October.

Merrill McMichael is again at E. Rivers School in Atlanta.

Carolyn (Manget) Kirby has a son, born in July.

Fairfid (Monsalvatge) Candle has a son, born during the summer.

Rachel (Moore) Bentley has a son, born during the summer.

Emily Neel went to Europe during the summer. She studied French for a month in Paris and traveled for a month. Emily will teach again in Quincy, Fla.

Berthine Osborne will teach in the high school in Comer, Ga.

Elizabeth (Parks) Duncan lives now in Orlando, Fla., and has a fine boy, Duell G., Jr.

Elizabeth Smith is teaching in Waynesboro this year.

Lucille Smith is teaching science in Cartersville, Ga.

Luetta Smith is teaching this year in Winder, Ga. She had a most delightful trip to California with the Moyer's Tours during the summer. She spent one day with Juddie (Turner) Juch, who lives now at 144 Eldridge, Mill Valley. Juddie went to California five years ago with the Moyer's party and attended the summer school session at the University, where she met her husband. The next year she settled in California for life. She still loves Wesleyan and asked many questions about Wesleyan, old and new.

Julia Thompson is at Scarritt College training for service in the foreign fields.

Minnie Van Valkenburg completed work for the A.B. degree at Wesleyan in three and one-half years instead of the usual four, and was graduated magna cum laude. After teaching for a year in Dublin, Ga., she was given a fellowship at the University of Cincinnati.

The only girl of the nine assistants in the chemistry department at the University, she was shortly afterward promoted to the office of the head of the department with supervision of the other eight student assistants.

In August she received the M.A. degree, was elected president of the Iota Sigma Pi, honorary Chemical sorority, and was appointed to an advanced assistantship for next year. She returned to the University in September to begin work on the Ph.D. degree. She is doing her research work on organic selenium compounds, and the results of this research will be tested for use in retarding cancer.

She expects to finish her work and receive the degree within two years, two months before her twenty-fourth birthday.

Louise Whitely is teaching music in Monroe.

Dale Williams of Ball Ground, Ga., is taking a business course in Atlanta.

Nathalie (Williams) Rivers is living now at 38 Cabot Ave., Alabama City, Ala.

1928

Next Reunion in 1933

Class Secretary: Mary Nell Wiley, Jersey, Ga.

Reba Abel is teaching in Roberta, Ga.

Frances Adair is studying play-writing in New York.

Dorothy Alexander is teaching English in the high school in Forsyth, Ga.

Agnes Anderson is teaching history in the Junior High department of Gordon Institute in Barnesville this winter.

Leah Avrunin has an excellent position as typist for the United States Government in Washington. Leah took a business course at Kaigler's Business College last year.

Carroll Boyd is teaching in Alva, Fla.

Louise Clark did graduate study at the University of Michigan this summer. She is teaching again at Lanier High School for Girls.

Virginia Creel is teaching this year in Girls' High School in Atlanta.

Elizabeth Holcombe, conservatory, '28, had a delightful trip to New York City during the summer.

Marjorie Jacob is teaching again at Lanier High School for Boys. She received her B.M. degree at the Conservatory in May.

Carolyn Lockett went to the University of California Summer school. She is teaching this year in Pelham.

Dorothy McKay is working with the S. L. Weedon Publishing Co. of New York. She is one of the editors of a reference book for children which will appear in 1931, "doing loads of research work," writes Dot, "but not much creative work yet." She and her sister, Anne, have an apartment together in New York.

Mary Lou Martin is teaching in Roberta, Ga.

Leita Moore is teaching history in the high school in Hamlet, N. C.

Catherine Pittard is teaching music in Eatonton, Ga.